SPENCER DECIDES ON LOUIS ALT FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

Senator Says He Expects Appointment as Selph's Successor to Be Made by President Soon.

TWO OTHERS ON ELGIBILITY LIST

Alt's Indorsement by Republicans Regarded as Advance Move to Keep Him Out of Race for Mayoralty.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—United States Senator Spencer announced today that he would recommend Louis Alt to the President for appointment as Postmaster of St. Louis to succeed Colin M. Selph. He added that he expected the appointment would be made soon.

Senator Spencer's statement followed announcement by the Civil Service Commission of the result of its recent examination of a number of applicants for the postmastership. The three men certified as eligible by the Civil Service Commission to the Postoffice Department were Alt, Ira L. Burlingame, president of the General Freight Service Association, and Owen J. Clarke, traveling auditor for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

The Postoffice Department declined to make public the ratings of the three eligibles for Postmaster, but Senator Spencer said he was informed that the order in rank in the examination were Alt, Burlingame and Clarke.

The Postoffice Department, following the customary rule, sent the names of the three eligibles to the White House. Alt has had the support of the Republican organization in St. Louis, since the withdrawal of Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, and his appointment as postmaster is confidently predicted by Senator Spencer and other Republican leaders.

Alt Had Indorsement of All Republican Factions in City.

Alt's selection, which technically the outcome of a civil service examination, has been expected since he became a candidate, following the decision of Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein that for political reasons he would not ask the appointment.

Alt was brought forward as an applicant by Goldstein and Senator Spencer and received the indorsement of all factions in Republican politics in St. Louis. Alt and Spencer have been friendly for many years, Alt having been one of Spencer's active supporters.

His indorsement by the various Republican factions was considered by Republican politicians as a long look in advance to eliminate him as candidate for Mayor in 1925. Although he was three times elected to the office of License Collector, he won the nomination each time over the organized Republican machine, and has not been popular with the organization when he sought office. He opposed Mayor Kiel for the nomination in 1917, and was looked upon as a probable candidate for Mayor at the end of Kiel's present term.

Alt's term as Postmaster would not expire by the time of the next Mayoralty campaign.

After Dec. 21, the last date for filing applications for Postmaster, a Civil Service Examiner and a Postoffice Inspector were sent to St. Louis to interview each of the applicants, and to make inquiry among representative citizens regarding their qualifications. There was nothing in the nature of an educational test in the examination, the applicants being judged on general appearance, what the investigators could learn about them, and their business experience.

The investigator reported their findings to the Civil Service Commission without recommendation, and the Commission today certified three names to the Postoffice Department. Alt was one of the three. None of the other applicants had political support.

Alt is 56 years old and has been identified with municipal government for many years. His first work was as a clerk in the office of the Recorder of Deeds. He later was a clerk in the United States Internal Revenue office. About 20 years ago he organized the Beacon Paper Co. After serving three terms as License Collector, he returned to the paper company in 1919 as its president and has been devoting all of his time to it.

He was a cousin of the late Henry Ziegenfuss, former Mayor. He is married and has three children. He resides at 3439 Shenandoah avenue.

HE IS LIKELY TO BE THE NEXT POSTMASTER

TEACHER, 45 AND MOTHER OF 5, ADMITS MARRYING PUPIL, 19

Tells Principal Wedding in October Was Result of Husband Teaching Her to Drive Car.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Mrs. Laura Spencer, preceptress of the Avon High School, admitted yesterday in a conference with the principal of the school that she was married last October to Neil Cushing, a student in one of her classes. Mrs. Cushing is 45 years old and the mother of five children, one of whom is a teacher. Her husband is 15. Cushing intends to continue his studies until he is graduated next year.

Young Cushing first came to love his teacher when she employed him last summer to teach her how to drive a car and their attachment for each other soon became a matter of great interest to the villagers.

The marriage, it was learned today, took place in a Pennsylvania town whither Cushing had driven the names of the three eligibles to the White House. Alt has had the support of the Republican organization in St. Louis, since the withdrawal of Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, and his appointment as postmaster is confidently predicted by Senator Spencer and other Republican leaders.

The Postoffice Department, following the customary rule, sent the names of the three eligibles to the White House. GEORGE HAYES' DEATH WAS DUE TO WOOD ALCOHOL

Coroner's Verdict Based on Autopsy on Body of One of 8 Heirs to $800,000 Estate; Found Dead.

TESTIMONY THAT HE WAS HEAVY DRINKER

Physician, in Whose Office
He Expired, Had Treated Him for Insomnia and Nervousness.

A Coroner's verdict that George Hayes, 41 years old, of 5707, McPherson avenue, whose body was found by a negro porter in a physician's office in the Victoria Building yesterday morning, died from wood alcohol poisoning, was returned this morning by Deputy Coroner Path. The verdict was based upon an autopsy performed by Dr. Albert J. Griot, an autopsy physician for the Coroner.

The only witness at the inquest were the porter and J. Hugh Powers, vice president of the Mercantile Trust Co., who identified the body. Powers said he had known Hayes about 20 years and that Hayes had been a heavy drinker during that period.

Hayes was one of eight heirs to the $800,000 estate of his father, the late Joseph M. Hayes, a woolen merchant, who died of heart disease Jan. 14, 1919, when attending a meeting of stockholders of the Mechanics-American National Bank, of which he was a director.

After the finding of Hayes' body, Dr. W. A. Dillon, 715 Victoria Building, the office where Hayes died, said Hayes had been in the habit of drinking a great deal, but had not been drinking when he called at the office Wednesday evening.

Wanted to Stay in Office.

He said he had been treating Hayes for nervousness and insomnia for about a year, and that after a treatment Wednesday afternoon, Hayes expressed a desire to remain in the office for a few minutes. Dr. Dillon said he departed, leaving Hayes in the office, and did not see him again. He expressed the opinion that Hayes died of heart disease.

Dr. Griot's autopsy report contained statements that there was a distinct indication of wood alcohol in Hayes' stomach, that there were sub-mucosa hemorrhages, and the concluding statement that death was caused by wood alcohol poisoning.

Was Not Active in Business.

Hayes had not been active in business, but his friends understood he was a broker. It was said by friends that they understood he was married and that his wife resided in England.

The property of Hayes' father was placed in a trust fund for the benefit of the eight children. His holdings were largely bank, railroad and tobacco stocks, including 200 shares of American Tobacco Co.

REED, IN SENATE, CALLED HARVEY A THOROUGH PATRIOT

Missouri Senator's Opinion of Ambassador Has Changed
Since April, 1921.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The immortality conferred on speeches in the House and Senate by the Congressional Record is often a source of embarrassment. If Ambassador George Harvey, for instance, wants to quote Senator Reed, he need only turn to the Record for April 21, 1921, where he will find a eulogy of himself in startling contrast with Reed's speech Wednesday night before the Chicago Council of the Friends of Irish Freedom.

Harvey's ambassadorial service of less than a year has wrought a tremendous change in the Missouri Senator's estimate of him. Of the man whom he has just characterized as "England's greatest today," who "ought to be recalled and his recent performances erased from the memory of man," Reed said last year, in the course of a long reply to a Democratic attack on Harvey's appointment:

"I have met him but once in my life and I was then impressed with the fact that he is probably one of the great intellects of this country. I think no man can truthfully challenge his patriotism, and if you combine intellectuality and patriotism, you come very nearly having what is necessary to make a good representative of your Government at the Court of St. James."

"Nobody has challenged the personal honor of Mr. Harvey here. No one has challenged his intellectuality. The whole thing rests upon the fact, after all, that he is a virile fighting Republican, and that he is not for the League of Nations. Well, why should he be? Why should anybody except a political idiot, go around hugging to his bosom a corpse that has been interred?"

"I can see no reason for this assault upon this man, when he goes there, in my opinion, with an intellectual equipment the equal of any possessed by any Minister at the Court of St. James in the last 50 years, a thorough-going American patriot, a man who proposes to help keep us out of European entanglements, who, if he has not always possessed by some gentlemen, at least has kept true to the faith of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson upon that great question."

BILL PROVIDING FOR FOREST PARK TRAFFIC CIRCLE PASSED

Mayor Expected to Approve Measure Calling for $72,000 Improvement—Bond Issue Necessary.

The Board of Aldermen today passed an ordinance providing for the construction of a traffic circle at the Lindell entrance to Forest Park. The circle will be 340 feet in diameter, with two 45-foot roadways and two 20-foot sidewalks, and is designed to relieve traffic congestion at Lindell boulevard and King's highway.

The City Planning Commission, which proposed the project and drafted the ordinance, estimates the cost of the improvement at $72,000. Mayor Kiel has indicated that he will approve the bill. It would become a law 30 days after his signature. The next step then would be the appointment of commissioners by the Circuit Court to assess damages and benefits. Ordinarily the commissioners take more than a year for such work.

The bill originally drawn for this improvement provided for a 370-foot circle, but Chase Uman protested that this would interfere with the erection of a hotel at the northeast corner of King's highway and Lindell, and the ordinance was changed to reduce the diameter of the circle. The construction of the circle will take some of the ground at the northeast corner, formerly the property of W. K. Biaby, as well as at the northwest and southeast corners.

As the city has no money available for such improvements, the city's share of the cost will have to be provided for in a bond issue.

STREET CLEANER STRUCK BY A TRUCK, DIES

Knocked Down When Three Vehicles Collided at Twenty-Second and Chestnut.

Peter Johns, 65 years old, a street cleaner, of 1210 North Fourteenth street, was knocked down at Twenty-second and Chestnut streets, at 8:10 this morning, by one of three trucks which collided there. His skull was fractured, and he died in the city hospital at 10.

The three trucks were all running east, and the driver of the rear one tried to pass the second one, at the same time that the second tried to pass the first. The result was a crash in which all three were involved. The front truck was the one which hit Johns.

The drivers of the three trucks were arrested. They were Candy Qualls, a negro, driving the front truck; Arthur Clayton, a negro, driving the second truck, and Otis Barr, driving the third.

Turf Patron, However, Received Income from $600,000 Which He Bequeathed to Relatives.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An appraisal filed yesterday by the Deputy State Comptroller, revealed that the late Lewisohn, former well-known Wall street plunger, first-nighter and turf patron, left a net estate of only $11,711.

A statement issued by attorneys for the estate explained that while that was all Lewisohn owned outright at the time of his death, he had received the income from a $600,000 trust fund established by his father, Leonard Lewisohn, and the power to transfer the principal of the trust estate by his will. Lewisohn exercised this right, according to his lawyers, and transferred two-thirds of the principal to his wife, formerly Miss Edna McCauley, actress, and friend of Lillian Russell, and the remaining third to his brother, Frederick Lewisohn.

EMPLOYEE FIRED FOR DRINKING, SHOOTS EMPLOYER, KILLS SELF

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Angered after drink had cost him his position as assistant manager of a hotel in Brooklyn, Joseph Alfred Voorhies yesterday shot and slightly wounded his employer, James E. Grape of Red Bank, N. J., and then killed himself.

Grape had summoned Voorhies to his suite and discharged him. The shooting followed.

Voorhies was said to have been a member of one of the oldest families of Louisiana. His father, Joseph Voorhies, was a Supreme Court Justice in that State and had served as a Lieutenant in the Confederate army. The family seat is at Lafayette, La., and his sisters there have been notified.

GIRL SHOTS AND KILLS MAN SHE ACCUSES, IN COURT

17-Year-Old Miss Fires Three Times at Defendant, 59, in Chair at Trial in Waco, Tex.

CHARGE OF ATTACK — TWO YEARS AGO

Slayer States "He'll Never Harm Another Girl," After Killing; Realty Man Had Family.

By the Associated Press.
WACO, Tex., Feb. 24.—Miss Marceline Matthews, 17 years old, shot and instantly killed J. S. Crosslin today during proceedings in the District Court here. He was charged with criminally attacking the girl two years ago.

Crosslin was tried, convicted and sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary, but the case was reversed on an error in the admission of testimony and remanded for trial.

The preliminaries had been completed and Miss Matthews had been called to the witness stand.

"He disgraced me, ruined my health and deprived me of school privileges," she stated after the killing. "But he will never ruin another girl."

Three Shots Fired.

Crosslin was 59 years old.

Miss Matthews walked to the witness chair, then turned with a pistol in hand, fired straight at Crosslin, who sat in a chair beside his attorney 15 feet away. She then took two or three steps forward and fired again. Advancing to within three feet of the man, who had collapsed in his chair, she shot a third time, the bullet penetrating the side of her victim.

W. H. Forrester, counsel for Cross-lin, grabbed the girl just after the third shot was fired and almost at the same time Officer Burton reached her, and taking her in his arms, carried her out of the courtroom. He took the weapon from her and locked her in a room in the Sheriff's office.

Confusion reigned in the courtroom. Judge Munro dismissed the jury indefinitely. Crosslin was taken from the chair and laid out on the floor.

Victim Was Married.

Crosslin was in the real estate business and when Miss Matthews charge was filed against him it created a sensation. He had a wife and several children. The Matthews girl, then only 15 years old, testified to her condition for which she said Crosslin was responsible. She became a mother. She declares her health was destroyed.

She is a little girl, weighing not more than 90 pounds, and was as calm as any man while shooting and remained so.

She is the daughter of W. E.
Matthews, who resided here when the alleged attack was committed, living in one of Crosslin's houses.
The family now resides at Rosebud, Tex. The father was in the city but was not in the courtroom when the shooting occurred.

Complaint has been filed charging her with murder.

TREATY RESERVATION MODIFIED; COMMITTEE TO VOTE TOMORROW

ENGLISHMAN BUYS WINE, DRINKS IT, THEN SELLS BOTTLE AND MAKES MONEY

By the Associated Press.
MUNICH, Feb. 24.—An Englishman on his way from Germany to Switzerland recently bought a bottle of wine for 500 crowns in the Austrian Tyrol. After drinking the wine he kept the bottle and, when he passed the Swiss frontier, sold it for 500 crowns.

A Swiss 50-centime piece is worth 750 Austrian crowns, so that the Englishman not only had his wine without cost, but gained 200 crowns.

Blanket Clause, Presented by Brandegee After Confer- ence With President, States "Preamble and Terms Contain No Com- mitment to Armed Force, No Alliance, No Pledge to Defend."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A modified blanket reservation to the four-Power Pacific treaty said to be satisfactory both to President Harding and to a majority of the members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was debated by the committee today and an agreement reached to vote on the treaty itself and all proposed reservations at tomorrow's session.

The new reservation was laid before the committee by Senator Brandegee, Republican, of Connecticut,
after a conference with President Harding. The Connecticut Senator was said not to have represented it as embodying the President's views, but the understanding of committee members was that it would be acceptable to the White House.

The text of the reservation follows:

"The United States understands that under the statement in the preamble, or under the terms of this treaty, there is no commitment to armed force, no alliance, no obligation to join in any defense."

An administration move yesterday for a compromise on reservations failed after it had stirred up a debate in the Foreign Relations Committee.

Coming directly from a conference with President Harding, Chairman Lodge of the committee laid before his colleagues a revised reservation, declaring in specific terms that the treaty did not contemplate an "alliance" and drafted to take the place of the blanket reservation to which a majority of the committee members previously had indicated their support.

Those who had sponsored the original blanket qualification immediately opened fire on the new reservation and the debate which followed was described by Senators present as the stormiest in the committee since the days of the Versailles treaty fight. Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator Johnson of California, Republicans, and Senator Forrester of Ohio, Democrats, said to have led the opposition, while the other reservationists reserved final judgment. In his advocacy of the modified draft, Senator Lodge was seconded by Senators Kellogg, Minnesota, and New-Indiana, Republicans.

No Action Taken.

Without taking action, the committee adjourned until today.

Treaty Up on Senate Floor.

Meanwhile the four-Power treaty was attacked in the Senate by Senator Watson, Democrat, of Georgia, who coupled a belated birthday tribute to George Washington with a prediction that the proposed four-Power arrangement would be an expensive departure from the traditions of the fathers. Germany and Russia, he prophesied, would be drawn together eventually in an alliance to the "quadruple alliance" with the result that a new balance of power arrangement would be established, involving the United States.

Debate on the Treaty between the United States and Japan was shut off by other Senate discussions. Senator Lodge called up the treaty soon after the day's session began and for more than four hours it remained technically before the Senate without a single reference being made to it on the floor. It will be brought up again today.

EARL OF CATHCART, NAMING EARL OF CRAVEN, GRANTED A DIVORCE

Decree Obtained on Charges of In-discretion by Wife Noted for Beauty.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 24.—The Earl of Cathcart was granted a divorce today upon proof of Lady Cathcart's indiscretions with the Earl of Craven. The case, which originally was in the defended list, came before the court as an undefended suit.

Lady Cathcart, who is regarded as one of the most beautiful women in England, is about 30 years of age, the daughter of the late John Fraser of Capetown, South Africa, and wife of Capt. De Grey Warner. The Earl of Cathcart is 59 years old.

The Earl of Craven inherited his title when his father was drowned in the Solent on July 9, 1921. He is only 24 years old, and lost a leg while serving with the British forces in the World War. He is married.

$2,000,000 apartment hotel. The contractors hope to begin laying the brick March 15. Plans call for opening of the hotel between Aug. 1 and 15.

BROKER BURKE, 62, TO START OVER, AND 'STICK TO HIS LAST'

Former Treasurer of U. S. to Try to Build Up Fortune
Again by Practicing as a Lawyer.

FOUR MORE WALL STREET HOUSES CRASH

Firms Swept Into Bankruptcy List by Speculative Storm in New York Financial District.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—In the crash of a number of brokerage firms in the financial storm in speculative Wall street within the past few days, unusual interest attaches to the financial tragedy of John Burke, who was Treasurer of the United States under President Wilson.

The crash of the firm of Kardos and Burke, Wednesday, preceded that of four other houses, yesterday.

Burke, who is 62 years old, resigned his post in 1921 to go into business with Kardos, a 25-year-old broker, who started in Wall street eight years ago as a $10-a-week messenger boy. Now he plans to start all over again, but this time as a lawyer, to make another fortune.

"Shoemaker and His Last," the whole thing reminds me of the old adage," Burke said, "that a cobbler should stick to his last. I am a lawyer by profession. I made a mistake in going into the brokerage business, concerning which I find I knew too little.

"I want the situation cleaned up, all transactions of the firm opened up to the public. I know such a process would involve me personally, and I have not the slightest doubt that it would clear up insinuations against the firm."

Burke said his contract with Kardos had an ironclad proviso that neither member of the firm should engage in trading on his own account, nor engage in any trading on the Exchange without the other's consent. Although he admitted he had not followed the affairs of the firm closely, he declared his belief that Kardos had lived up to the letter of the contract. Burke said he had lost everything in the crash.

"As soon as this thing is cleared up," he concluded, "I shall start anew to build up my fortune—but as a lawyer this time."

Friends Tried to Help Burke.
Application for an order to include in the bankruptcy proceedings Jay A. Greenwald, said to have withdrawn as a partner in the firm of Kardos and Burke last week, will be made, the receiver has indicated. Greenwald is said to have withdrawn his interests without the consent of his partners.

In an attempt to stave off the impending disaster, Burke, his attorney declared, had invested $20,000 in the last two weeks and some of his friends added $20,000 to the firm's resources, but this had been dissipated by withdrawals.

Kardos, the son of a wealthy Chicagoan, was reported out of the city yesterday. Burke said he understood his partner had gone to a suburb for a few days.

Bankruptcy Petitions.
Involuntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed in Federal Court yesterday against S. & Ruskay & Co., liabilities estimated at $2,500,000 and assets at $1,500,000; J. W. Ball & Co., liabilities estimated at $100,000 and assets at $10,000; Rodney & Co., liabilities and assets not given, and the New York Curb Market announced the suspension of Rasmussen & Co. for alleged failure to meet its engagements.

A steady stream of failures for the last month, with resultant heavy loss to customers throughout the United States and Canada, recently led District Attorney Ranton to start an investigation of alleged irregular practices by brokers, the most common of which was alleged to be the "bucketing" of orders.

Of 30-odd firms that have gone into bankruptcy since the first of the year, 12 have been found by grand juries to have operated in a manner to warrant indictment of some of their members. Nineteen persons are under indictment, and several of them are reported to have disappeared from the city.

Claims Are Presented.
Complaints against the Ruskay firm presented claims of $11,000 which they declared the firm was unable to pay. Judge Hand appointed Mark Hyman receiver. The firm has branches in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Bridgeport, St. Louis, Boston and Chicago.

James W. Ball & Co. was one of the best known firms of betting commission in the financial district, handling hundreds of large wagers on sports events and elections. Arthur G. Deibel was named receiver under bond of $5000.

Petitioners against Rodney & Co. presented claims of $24,420. Rasmussen & Co. filed an assignment for the benefit of creditors late yesterday, naming George A. McLaughlin as assignee. Later, bankruptcy by creditors with three creditors with claims aggregating less than $1000 filed a petition in bankruptcy against Rasmussen & Co., alleging the firm's action in making an assignment was an act of bankruptcy. UNION STATION MATRON FOR 26 YEARS DIES

Mrs. Fannie Wood Brown, 70, Went to Los Angeles Recently for Vacation.

A telegram from Los Angeles to the Terminal Railroad Association today announced the death there yesterday of Mrs. Fannie Wood Brown, who for 26 years had been matron at the St. Louis Union Station.

The notification of death was sent by Miss Belle Wright, an employee of the Terminal company, who accompanied Mrs. Brown on a vacation awarded to her Feb. 1. Mrs. Brown was 70 years old and had been in failing health during the last year of her long employment.

Mrs. Brown was not so widely known among St. Louisans who passed through Union Station, who made in her years of service to troubled transients. Hundreds of friends. She occupied a desk in the women's waiting room when not going about among the women and children travelers giving advice and help where it was needed. For many years she was the only welfare worker at the station, during which time her salary was paid by church organizations until she became an established employee of the Terminal company.

To everyone at the station she was known as "Mother" Brown for her motherly care of girls, women and children traveling alone. She is known to have either rescued or aided runaway or abandoned girls left stranded at the station, and in this connection her work was correlated with local institutions devoted to the attention of cases of this kind.

In an interview with a Post-Dispatch writer before she departed for California, Mrs. Brown said:

"My dealings were chiefly with the poor or helpless. If my services had been reserved for those who needed it most, they would have been the old people. They are more helpless than children traveling alone, just as apt to become bewildered and go astray, and not so trusting of the authorities. So they are hard to guide. Many of my charges were children, checked from one point to another in care of conductors. It was a common occurrence to receive a letter addressed simply, 'The Matron,' asking that a child be met at a certain train and directing that it be sent to its next stopping point."

The body will be brought back to St. Louis for burial.

DEPEND ON OWN PHONE SERVICES
Discussion of the merger plans of the Bell and Kinloch telephone companies has disclosed that they probably are the only large corporations in St. Louis maintaining many departments and suites of offices, that do not maintain private branch exchanges of both services. The Bell used the Bell service almost exclusively, having only one Kinloch instrument. Likewise, the Kinloch used Kinloch service almost exclusively, having only one Bell instrument.

The Bell's Kinloch telephone is in the office of R. A. Nickerson, treasurer of the company, and the Kinloch's Bell telephone is in the office of H. Linton Reber, president of the company. The names are listed in the directory under the names of Nickerson and Reber.

Funeral for Former U. S. Senator.
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 24.—The funeral of John P. Shafroth, former United States Senator and Congressman, and twice Governor of Colorado, was held here yesterday. The body will remain in a vault until the return this spring of William Shafroth, the youngest son, who now is conducting relief work in Russia.

Assets were not estimated in the petition. In the proceedings against Rodney & Co., Judge Hand appointed Harold Remington receiver, under bond of $15,000.

The brokerage firm of Higgins & Dias was named in a petition in bankruptcy by creditors with only small claims. No estimate of the firm's liabilities and assets appeared in the petition. Bernard J. Higgins and Samuel H. Dias are its members.

INVESTIGATORS ARE PRESSING INQUIRY

Witnesses Being Heard Behind Closed Doors—All Wreckage Removed From Scene of Plunge.

By the Associated Press.
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Feb. 24.—Business activities in Newport News ceased this afternoon at 1 o'clock when tolling bells marked the departure of the funeral cortege of the 34 unidentified victims of the Roma disaster from St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Its route marked by thousands who stood with bared heads, the procession moved to the Casino grounds on a bluff overlooking the James River, where military services were conducted.

The humming of airplanes overhead mingled with the dirge of the bells as the bodies were placed on the catafalque of state. A squadron of machines swept in from the east and flowers rained down on the cortege and the silent mourners. The fliers were from Langley Field, friends and companions of the dead men.

The army board is pressing its investigation into the cause of the disaster, hearing more witnesses behind closed doors. It is expected to be ready to report its conclusions to the War Department within a few days.

Every vestige of the wreck of the huge craft has been removed. Charles W. Iyovak, superintendent of Great Ship construction at McCook Field, Dayton, O., who was injured in the crash, stated yesterday that the failure of the controls to work was a natural theory, but not necessarily the cause of the trouble.

Maj. John D. Reardon, another of the injured on the other hand, said that "the wreck of the Roma" was undoubtedly due to failure of controls.

Inquiry Likely to Determine Whether Army Will Use Any More Large Dirigibles.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—An inquiry by the army air service into the whole question of the military value of lighter-than-air craft is expected to grow out of the Roma disaster.

Officers of the air service said yesterday that such a study was necessary, as loss of the Roma has upset training and operating programs for that branch of the service. From the inquiry, it is understood, will come a decision as to whether there is sufficient military value, direct or indirect, in the employment by the army of dirigible aircraft of great size, to warrant recommendations to Congress for the acquisition of new craft, if the lighter-than-air type.

Secretary Weeks said he had not discussed with his military advisers the replacement of the Roma, but felt there was no justification for asking for a new vessel of the same type.

The War Secretary, after a conference yesterday with Major-General Patrick, Chief of the Army Air Service, who had just returned from Langley Field where he personally investigated the disaster, was represented as satisfied on the basis of present information that the accident was due to the breaking of elevator cables, or to the failure of the ports for the elevator cable drive, or to structural defect that could have been detected in advance.

He had no knowledge, he said, of any complaint in connection with the ability of the crewing the Roma, except for the motor difficulties which led to the replacing of the Italian engines with American-built Liberty motors.

Secretary Weeks and Gen. Patrick took issue with published statements seeking to blame Congress for the Roma disaster.

Messages of sympathy at the loss of life in the British have come from Great Britain, Canada, Italy and Germany.

MISSOURIAN SAVED FOUR COMPANIONS IN "ROMA" DISASTER

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 24.

By the Associated Press.
SURVIVORS of the Roma disaster who have been interviewed by the board of inquiry have spoken in glowing terms of the bravery of Master Sergeant Harry A. Chapman of St. Joseph, Mo., who is now in a serious condition at the public health hospital here.

Sgt. Chapman was in a compartment with several of his comrades, survivors say, when the Roma plunged to her doom. He had the presence of mind to cut an opening with his pocket-knife in the canopy of flaming canvas that enveloped the ruins, and after he had torn a hole through the compartment, he is said to have stood to one side and called to his companions to climb through to safety. It was not until four men had crawled from the seething mass that Sgt. Chapman himself escaped.

During the lives of four of his comrades, Sgt. Chapman sustained such severe burns that for two days little hope was entertained by attending physicians for his recovery. It is now believed that he will recover.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 24.—Nervousness at Gate Proves Undoing of Prisoner at San Quentin: Three Others Get Away.

By the Associated Press.
SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Feb. 24.—While the Rev. B. Forbes, a San Francisco clergyman, was delivering a religious lecture at San Quentin penitentiary last night, three convicts took advantage of the assembly to scale the walls and escape. A fourth convict donned the minister's robe and hat and walked past several guards, but was recognized and stopped at the outer gate when he heaved nervousness in saying "good evening."

Those who escaped were Frank Clausen, Willis Knowles and Richard Palmer. It was Clausen's fifth escape from legal detention. He twice gained freedom from San Quentin, once from the prison at Marquette, Mich., and once from the penitentiary at Menard, Ill.

ADMITS FALSE BURGLARY REPORT
A "burglary" at the home of Peter Nicola, 1803 South Third street, reported July 1 last, was cleared up last night when Mrs. Nicola signed a statement at police headquarters admitting that she had sold a watch and two rings without her husband's knowledge, in the case of the military Maj. John D. Reardon, another of the injured on the other hand, said that "the wreck of the Roma" was undoubtedly due to failure of controls.

Mrs. Nicola admitted having sold the watch and also two rings which had been reported stolen from her home. She also admitted having taken $40 from the house and gave her husband the impression that it had been stolen in a burglary. She was released after having signed the statement.

State Governor in Dispute with Canadian Judge
Morrison of North Carolina Refuses to Send Witnesses for Prisoner Whose Extradition He Has Requested.

By the Associated Press.
HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 24.—Unless North Carolina witnesses appear before next Friday to testify against Matthew Bullock, negro, who is wanted in North Carolina on a charge of attempted murder, he will be unconditionally released, Judge Snider declared today in granting what he said would be his last remand in the case.

The week's postponement was granted at the request of the United States Consul here. The Consul was informed that witnesses must appear in person and that affidavits, unsupported by original evidence, would not be accepted.

Gove of Wires Washington States Won't Send Witnesses.
RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 24.—Gov. Morrison of North Carolina, in a vigorous message sent today to Acting Secretary of State Fletcher at Washington, declared the State of North Carolina would not under any circumstances produce witnesses to testify before Judge Snider at Hamilton, Ont., as to the charge of attempted murder pending against Matthew Bullock, a negro, whose extradition has been asked for by the American Government.

The North Carolina Governor, informed the Acting Secretary that if Canada would not hear the extradition "in the regular way" and if the State Department could not convince the Canadian authorities that they should do so, "then I hope you will not hesitate request North Carolina or any other self-respecting State of the Union in any way to honor a request from Canada."

The telegram of Gov. Morrison was in reply to one received by him yesterday from Secretary Fletcher suggesting that witnesses be sent as demanded by Judge Snider. Bullock is wanted in North Carolina on a charge of attempted murder in connection with a race riot at Norfolk.

Lines Penned to the Apollo
by James Whitcomb Riley

You've wrought a miracle—
You've made a pianist of me—
Indeed, no master ever played Beyond the mastery
Of this device—and twice and thrice
The price in ready tin,
I'll pay you for some like device,
That plays the violin.

These lines were written by James Whitcomb Riley, after purchasing one of the earlier models of the Apollo. To what poetic tribute would he be moved could he hear the Apollo Reproducing Piano of today!

The Apollo is an inspiration to all lovers of music, for it brings into one's life that daily contact with the best of music as interpreted by the world's master minds and master hands. It brings to your home for your daily enjoyment that selfsame art which thrills you upon the concert platform only to become a memory to the student of music, what greater incentive to effort can there be than this daily companionship with the world's great pianists?

How This Is Accomplished
The pianist, playing a special recording piano, records the melody upon a music roll which catches every detail of tone, touch and expression. The Apollo reproducing mechanism, having within itself the power to match the touch of human fingers, responds to this personally recorded roll and repeats exactly the artist's original performance.

Come In and Hear
The Apollo. We'll be glad to play your favorite selections on the Apollo, as you may judge how perfectly it matches the playing of master pianists. View the classic design of the Apollo case; examine the refined workmanship that goes into its construction. Satisfy your own eyes. No obligation, of course.

AMERICAN FOOD CHECKS
DEATHS IN FAMINE AREA
Reports Show Grain Which Has Arrived in Russian Famine Zone Is Saving Lives—Situation Worse in Other Parts.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Feb. 24.—American food is beginning to tell in the fight for lives of children in the famine districts where the American Relief Administration operates. But elsewhere the situation is growing worse every day.

In some villages of the Orenburg district where the deaths of children had ranged from five to seven daily, they are now from one to two weekly, while in certain hospitals the mortality total has been halved.

But among the adults everywhere and among the children where there is no foreign aid, the death rate is leaping at an unbelievable rate.

Three American ships have been unloaded at Novorossk, on the Black Sea, and cargoes of corn will reach the sufferers before the end of the month, says Col. William M. Haskell, director of the relief administration work.

Col. Haskell says no American relief workers have died of typhus but that the list of victims among the English and Nansen organizations is growing.

CONSTITUTION ASSOCIATION TO CONTINUE ITS ACTIVITIES
Votes to Participate Actively in Campaign if Desirable Constitution Is Drawn.

Members of the New Constitution Association of Missouri at a luncheon at Hotel Statler this afternoon voted to continue the activities of the organization through the period of the Constitution convention, which will convene in Jefferson City this spring or summer, and if a constitution considered desirable comes from the convention to actively participate in the campaign for its adoption.

A committee consisting of Mrs. George Gelhorn, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, John M. Atkinson, Percy Wemer, Dr. M. A. Bliss and William M. Ledbetter, secretary of the association, was appointed to receive suggestions of constitutional changes desired and to obtain the views of organizations represented in the association on the proposed changes. This committee will report to the association at a meeting to be called later.

Ten proposed subjects for action by the convention were submitted by the association with a motion that the association approve them. The motion failed of adoption and the suggestions were submitted to the committee.

PUZZLES ENGLAND
Newspapers Indorse Government's Suspension of Consideration of Treaty Bill.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 24.—The cabinet's treatment and uncertainty into which the Anglo-Irish agreement has thrown the free state parliamentary election has thrown the relations between England and Ireland, as emphasized by the newspapers.

The political writers take the attitude adopted yesterday by Secretary for Colonies, Churchill, and Lord Chancellor Birkenhead that not enough was yet known concerning the action of the Sinn Fein convention to form judgment upon it. The writers indorse the Government's suspension of further consideration of the Anglo-Irish treaty bill until further knowledge is gained. They believe the measure may be taken up next Thursday or Friday if the matter meanwhile has been straightened out.

The Westminster Gazette's political correspondent says the British Ministry of the treaty (which has been given the go-ahead by the cabinet) is in the situation a triumph for Republicanism.

The Daily Telegraph says the far-reaching change in the arrangements contemplated by the treaty has given rise to disappointment and misgivings. The newspaper, nevertheless, urges the necessity of Great Britain carrying out her side of the bargain.

The Daily Mail thinks the treaty is in danger and blames the Government for not stipulating a time limit which the treaty should be ratified.

$9300 BROUGHT IN $14,400 A YEAR
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—A CHICAGO landlord who acquired the habit of boosting the rent so often that he received more money every year than his building cost, has received a dose of his own medicine in a tax increase of 447 per cent assessed against him.

The landlord had a 12-flat building valued at $9300 in the tax reports—an average of $775 for each flat. The rental from these flats, however, averaged $1200 a year for each flat. The landlord's taxes last year were $245.24 on the building.

The Tax Board, after taking a look at the size of the landlord's receipts from the oft-boosted rentals, placed a tax valuation of $14,400 on the building and assessed the landlord $1723.14 instead of $245.24 for this year's taxes.

George Gelhorn, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, John M. Atkinson, Percy Wemer, Dr. M. A. Bliss and William M. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 24.—Cross-examination of Mrs. Elizabeth Besant, termed one of the State's star witnesses, was to be resumed today at the trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Mrs. Besant lives at Beverly Glen, a suburb, near the cottage where Kennedy was shot to death.

Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain stood over the dead body of J. Belton Kennedy, her sweetheart, as it lay on the steps leading to his summer home at Beverly Glen here last August, and exclaimed distractedly: "Oh, why did they do it?"

Now Has Influenza.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 24.— Growing disbelief in the story of the murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director, here, Feb. 1, related in Detroit within the last three days by Harry M. Fields, in custody there, is expressed today by Los Angeles officials.

They point out two changes Fields has made in his original story. One is the reduction of a $1000 bill to a $100 bill in connection with his statement that he was paid $900 for having driven a Chinese, a white woman and a white man to the Taylor apartments.

The officers have learned that a Chinese named Wong Lee, the name Fields gave the Chinese in the alleged murder party, had left Los Angeles' Chinatown three days ago when it was first intimated Fields might have important information concerning the case. They say, however, that they have nothing to connect Wong Lee with the Taylor murder and recall that Fields had said the Chinese in his party went East with him.

The officers say they are unable to learn anything of the white woman and white man whom Fields named as Jennie Moore and Johnny Clark, or any persons who knew anything of them.

Miss Mabel Normand, reported seriously ill of influenza at her temporary retreat in Altadena, was said to be improving today. Her secretary told inquiries that while Miss Normand was seriously ill, it was thought that her recovery was almost certain. The same information was given out by the officials of the studio at which she has been employed recently.

Miss Normand, who was the last friend of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, to see the latter before he was mysteriously shot and killed here nearly a month ago, has been ill since that occurrence. She broke down at the Taylor inquest and again at the funeral, and for the intervening time has been in seclusion except when she emerged to give a formal statement of her knowledge of the case to the officials charged with its investigation.

Miss Normand's parents, who arrived from their Eastern home a few days ago, have joined her.

Fields' Bank Book Said to Show Deposit in Chicago, Feb. 2.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 24.—Authorities here withhold decision as to the value of a statement by Harry M.
Fields, about the murder of William Desmond Taylor, Los Angeles film director.

Edward Balhorn, a detective, who brought Fields here from Buffalo, yesterday said that when he searched Fields at police headquarters, where he was booked on a forgery charge, he found a bank book in the name of "Sam Coplin," showing a deposit of $150 in a Chicago bank, Feb. 2. Fields, he said, explained that he sometimes used the name of "Coplin."

Sheriff Coffin said that efforts to locate this bank book had failed.
As the Taylor murder was commissed the night of Feb. 1, Fields' presence in Chicago the following day would preclude his presence in Los Angeles Feb. 1.

Another woman besides the one present when the crime was commissed was implicated in the murder, Fields said.

The four men and women, Fields told the Sheriff, met three times prior to Feb. 1 to plan the crime, and on Jan. 31 engaged him to act as chauffeur.

Fields said he could not divulge the motive for the slaying, adding that the four plotters were engaged by persons he did not know, to slay Taylor.

Fields' Story as Wired to Los Angeles Authorities.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Feb. 24.—According to Harry M. Fields' story, as tel-graphed by Sheriff William L. Trae-det to Sheriff William L. Trae-det here, the murder of William Desmond Taylor was plotted in a "hop joint" at Venice, a beach suburb of Los Angeles.

Arrangements were made shortly before noon, Feb. 1, eight hours or more before Taylor was killed, the telegraphed details continued. At that time a woman, named by Fields
as Jennie Moore; Wong Lee, a Chinese, and an American, Johnnie Clark, met in a dining room in Venice and reviewed alleged plans for slay-ing Taylor because of their belief

Miss of 1922 Who Smokes and "Flaps" Defended as Creature of Passing Fads

Bishop and a Woman Dean Say She May Roll
Her Stockings and Wear Floppy Galoshes
—but Can Take Care of Herself.

The little temptress over the terrible Miss of 1922, with her cigarettes, her high skirts, her floppy galoshes and her flesh-tight stockings, has produced some solid friends of adulthood, who assert the 1922
"habits" are merely fads, harmless as the fads of any younger generation.
In collecting opinion from all sorts of critics and defenders of the American Miss of 1922, there is found an undercurrent of regret even among her champions and defenders that there is not to be found the gentleness, the dignity and the poise of her American mother and grandmother.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 24.—Cigarette smoking girls in schools is but a fad and will die out, said Bishop T.
F. Gallor of New York. Bishop Gallor is in OMAHA, and his expression on the subject called forth by the action of the Nebraska Normal School Board, taken Tuesday against "Cigarette Smoking" in the report that smoking is prevalent among the girls there.

"It's nothing but a fad; it will die out just like other fads have died out," said the Bishop, "and, anyway, why say to a woman of 20 that she shall not smoke? Why not start a campaign against painted faces and lipsticks? They all paint.
They will get over smoking. It seems to me the fashion right now to smoke. It won't last. They'll get over it."

Woman Dean Tells Why the "Flappers" Flap.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Mrs. G. I.
White, dean of women at Cornell, who is here for the convention of women deans, told why "flappers" flap.

"On the campus—everywhere," said Mrs. White, "we note a swinging away from conventionality and a tendency to substitute self-determination for the old-fashioned don'ts."

"The co-ed today is the same now, yesterday and forever—the eternal feminine. Girls have changed during the last decade only superficially.
They may roll down their stockings, smoke cigarettes, doll up, get petting, discard their stays and ask boldly what they want to know, but they are the same girls who were balloon girls and danced the two-step to Sousa marches."

"The war gave them their fling and helped them find themselves.
Woman suffrage has given them a sense of their responsibilities. The modern college girl, despite her follies, is more responsible than the 1910 model and prefers to do her thinking for herself. It is for her, not others, she believes, to determine her standard of morals, and she is taking care of herself without much help. She is franker than her elder sister; she is more independent; she is individual."

"Of course, the war, with its opportunities for woman, lifted the restraint that had been placed upon her. She went to excesses. She learned to smoke and she discovered her legs. Prohibition led her to other excesses. I must frankly admit that she drinks, but I have noticed lately a reaction from excess, and I am not at all alarmed over the future of the modern girl."

"A lot of our girls come from New York. They introduce the New York styles and fads. If New York flaps, we are interfering with the drug traffic."

At 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of Feb. 1, the statement continued, the party left Venice on the way to Los Angeles and passed through the Hollywood section, where they waited until after dark, and at 7:30 o'clock drove to the Taylor apartments. They stopped the car, according to the exact language of the so-called confession, "nine doors south of the Taylor bungalow on Alvarado street, and on the other side of the street."

Then, according to Fields, the woman, carrying an automatic pistol of heavy caliber, the Chinese, holding a .38-caliber breakdown pistol, and Clark carrying a blackjack, left the automobile and disappeared into the bungalow court.

Three minutes later, according to Fields, he heard the "muffled report" of a revolver and 20 seconds later the woman, the Chinese and Clark were back in the car urging Fields to "go away from here."

As he was starting the car, Fields stated, the Chinese sprang out of it, saying, "Wait a minute."

Wong Lee then ran about 30 feet up a nearby court and hid his revolver under "something," according to Fields.

The remainder of the night was passed at the Venice "hop joint," as Fields described it, and the following day Wong Lee and Fields departed for the East by way of Seattle. Fields said he did not know what became of Jennie Moore and Johnny Clark.

Fields Said to Have Served Time as Drug Addict.

By the Associated Press.
WALLA WALLA, Wash., Feb. 24.—
Harry M. Fields, held in Detroit, who claims knowledge of the identity of the murderers of William Desmond Taylor at Los Angeles, was an inmate of the State penitentiary, several years ago, according to prison officials. When released he went to California. He also served time in New Westminster, B. C., as a drug addict, prison records show.

New Sanity Trial Denied Church.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Judge Kickham Scanlan yesterday denied a motion for a new sanity trial for Harry M. Fields, condemned murderer, recently found sane by a jury after receiving a stay of execution until March 3. Church's attorneys plan to appeal to the Supreme Court for a new trial to decide Church's sanity.

MRS. CHEATHAM FOUND
HIDING IN CHICAGO

Wealthy Widow Disappeared
Last Summer to Prevent Divorce Between Daughter and Son-in-Law.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Mrs. E. S.
Cheatham, wealthy New York widow, who for several months was believed to have been dead, was found in a South Side residential room in a South Side residential section inhabited largely by persons of only moderate means.
Mrs. Cheatham said she had purposely hidden herself in the hope that her disappearance would prevent a divorce between her daughter and son-in-law.

Mrs. Cheatham's clothing was found in a bath's locker last summer, but yesterday no trace of her was found.

"There'd Better Not Be Any Smoking Here," Says Nebraska Dean.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 24.—There is no smoking among girls students of the four State normal schools of Nebraska, according to members of the State Board of Education. Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women of the University of Nebraska, said,
"I would make no exception. Cigarette smoking was not indulged in by the co-eds of the State University."

"And there had better not be," added Miss Heppner, "because it would make social ostracism for the girl who sought to violate the unwritten law of the school."

Sororities Must Abandon "Rushing," Says Mary Ross Potter.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—The modern university sorority need never be shamed of itself as long as its aims and ideals get beyond the mere "social" feature of college life, Mary Ross Potter, dean of women at Northwestern University, told the National Association of Deans of Women here. But, the modern sorority must abandon the ancient "rushing" prospective members and must cease setting up a false standard, a social prestige if it is to contribute a beneficial force to society, she said.

"The girl who is 'rushed' is hurt; the girl who is 'rushed' and dropped is abused; the girl who is 'rushed' and is invited is the only one who enjoys it, and even when it comes to the time of deciding which sorority she will join, would often be willing to give it all up," Dean Potter said. "The college infirmaries are full of the victims of 'rushing.'
Why encourage it?"

Speaking of the alleged social prestige of university sororities, she said: "No mortal or group of mortals has the right to gain esteem by the expense of another. For the good of the sorority member as well as for the girl outside, this thing is an evil and should not be tolerated by an institution which pretends to give equal opportunity to all. It is done when, in any way, the sorority is made to seem a higher social caste.
There is no social caste in America."

Dean Potter suggested a basis of membership for sororities "which might be defined and understood by nonmembers," and said that membership should be entered into late enough so that both sorority members and candidates should know each other well or provision should be made for severing the bond and of transferring to another group more easily.

Election of Sons of Revolution.

The Missouri Society, Sons of the SON WHO KILLED FATHER WITH POKER RELEASED

Verdict of Justifiable Homicide Returned in Case of Saloon Keeper Found Dead.

A coroner's verdict of justifiable homicide was returned today in the case of Arthur Loewenstein, 51 years old, of 223 Soudard street, who was found dead from a fractured skull at 1 p. m. yesterday on a couch in a back room of his soft drink saloon, 2101 De Kalb street, 26 hours after he had been struck on the head with a poker by his son and business partner, Paul Loewenstein, 31.

Witnesses testified at the inquest that Arthur Loewenstein was of a quarrelsome disposition and frequently had threatened his son with a revolver. Paul Loewenstein, who had been detained by the police since yesterday afternoon, was released.

Loewenstein was found by his wife, Mrs. Kate Loewenstein, when she went to the saloon to find out why he had not been home the night before. Finding the doors of the saloon locked, she summoned help.

The rear door was broken open and Loewenstein, with a cut on top of his head, was found stretched upon a couch. He evidently had been dead several hours.

Son Makes a Statement.

Paul Loewenstein, who was arrested as he was on his way to the Sou-lard street station to surrender, made the following statement to the police:

At 11:30 a. m. Wednesday he and his father quarreled over a discrepancy of about $15 in the cash register and the elder Loewenstein took off his coat and challenged his son to a fight. "It's me and you for it," Paul Loewenstein quoted his father as saying.

They were standing near a stove in the center of the saloon. Arthur Loewenstein reached toward his hip pocket and Paul Loewenstein picked up an iron poker and brought it down on top of his father's head.
The latter fell and the son left the saloon.

Visitors Attend to Cut.

Fred Haubrich, 3034 South Second street, and John Frank, 717 Chouteau avenue, informed the police that when they entered the saloon at noon, Wednesday, they observed that Arthur Loewenstein was suffering from a wound on the head. He told them he had been hit by a street car and later said that he and his son had quarreled and that he had been struck with a poker. Haubrich and Frank said they remained with Loewenstein about 15 minutes, assisting him to the couch and getting some peroxide with which he bathed the wound.

Mrs. Loewenstein told the police that she became uneasy when her husband failed to come home Wednesday night and that when yesterday, when her son did not come home for lunch, she went to the saloon to inquire. After she had broken into the saloon and found her husband dead, her son came away and told of the quarrel the day before and left the place, saying that he was going to notify the police.

Science Is Asked to Snare the Mischievous Ghost of the House of Antigonish

Nova Scotia Aroused by Flight of Family, the Chasing of Horses, and the Braiding of Cattle's Tails

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Whatever it is that has been lighting fires, untiring cattle and laying unseen hands on investigating detectives and reporters at the Haunted House of Antigonish, Nova Scotia, will shortly face the cold, stern probe of science, if the American Institute for Scientific Research undertakes the investigation requested yesterday in a telegram from the Halifax Herald to Dr. Walter Franklin Pierce, director of the Institute.

This "ghost" has routed a family from its home, sent strange rumors through the countryside and finally stirred the authorities and the press to attempts at solution, all of which have been baffled. The "haunted house," as it is now called by general consent, stands in grim isolation at the northern end of Nova Scotia. Antigonish is 100 miles from Halifax.

For 20 years it was the home of Alexander MacDonald and his wife and their adopted daughter, Mary Ellen, and it had been the home of MacDonald's father.

Strange Things Begun to Happen.

In 1916 strange things began to happen on the old MacDonald farm.
Cattle which MacDonald had tied securely in the evening were found loose in the morning. A horse fastened in his own way when he left the animal was fastened in an entirely different way when he returned. He sold the horse and bought another and the same thing happened. The tails of his cattle were braided.

Then trouble began in the house.

JANITOR IS FREED OF CHARGE OF ANNOYING WOMAN PATIENT

William R. Petty, Accused by Mrs.
Agnes Halle, Says He Is Second-hand Dealer.

William R. Petty, negro janitor in charge of the Sawyer Building, 810 Chestnut street, charged with disturbing the peace of Mrs. Agnes Halle, 1412 St. Ange avenue, in the reception room of the offices of Dr.
M. D. Vosburgh in the Benoit Building, Feb. 6, was discharged by Judge Homer in Police Court today.
Mrs. Halle, who is 24 years old and was a patient of Dr. Vosburgh's, testified Petty entered the reception room while she was waiting for the doctor and, taking a seat near her, handed her his card and annoyed her with questions concerning her habits, whether she liked wine or whisky, and whether she wished to buy any secondhand article that he had for sale.

Petty denied that he conversed with Mrs. Halle for any improper purpose. He said he dealt in second-hand furniture and clothing and also sold diamonds, and that he gave Mrs. Halle his card to call him in case she at any time wished to purchase such things.

Sweaters Newly Arrived

Prove Themselves Favorites of the Spring Mode

At $2.98 and $5

AGAIN the primary requirement of the Spring's wardrobe is a Sweater. Not just an ordinary Sweater, but one of these snappy, smartly fitted Sweaters offered in our newly completed Spring display.

The colors are softly blended—many Spring-like tones are achieved by varicolored threads crossing each other in the weaves. All the soft, out-door shades favored this Spring are here at their best.

In these two very moderate-priced groups you can choose from dozens of styles, the Sweater that just suits your individual style.

Round necks and V-necks show their trim lines. Pockets are shunned on some models and on others become cleverly ornamental.

Stripes, mixtures and plain colorings offer divers choice of canna, henna, navy, black and natural tones.

(Third Floor.)

"Perrin" French Kid Gloves

Are Offered in Special Selling

GLOVES of this reliable, well-known brand always have an enthusiastic following. With thoughts turning to Spring outfits, this selling is particularly acceptable. At these prices purchasing is wise, whatever the season.

The quantities in some styles are limited, so we would suggest early shopping.

White Dresses—Specially Priced

$3.95, $5.00, $7.45 and $10.75

The fine quality of the organdie, voile and batiste used in these Dresses gives them the sheer, dainty look so appropriate for confirmation and graduation costumes.

Gingham Dresses—Specially Priced

$2.00, $3.00, $3.95 and $4.95

You can choose from several practical and attractive styles and be sure of an exceptional value in every case. Most of the Skirts are full gathered and plaited. Sashes give a perky finish to the long waistlines. Sizes 6 to 14 years.

(Girls' Store—Third Floor.)

New Frocks of Crepe Knit Are Favorites in the Moderate-Price Dress Section

Prices Are $15—$19.75

SNAP, dash, service, beauty—everything one could desire in a frock for service and semi-formal wear, is charmingly displayed in these frocks of crepe knit.

The beauty of the material increases because of the simple, well executed designs chosen in this particular group.

Silk Hosiery

Special Value $1.65

ONE of the best-known manufacturers of silk stockings made this Hosiery which we offer at special price.

These Stockings are made of pure thread silk, full fashioned, and reinforced with lisle at wearing points. They would have commanded several times this small price, but for slight irregularities.

Their value is most unusual. We offer various colors and black, in open clocked style, drop stitched, and plain weave.

Silk Knitwear of Phoenix Make

THIS special showing of Phoenix Silk Knitwear reveals the daintiest of undergarments, marked at very moderate price. The real service to be had from these fine woven Silk Knickers and Vests makes each a most desirable value at the prices quoted.

Plain or Richelleu rib, offered in both flesh and orchid.

Knickers at $3.95 and $4.25

Phoenix Knickers, of plain or Richelleu rib, are reinforced at every necessary point. Their wearing quality and beautiful silken weave recommends them to every customer who seeks good value.

Vests, $2.50 and $2.75

These Phoenix Ribbed Silk Vests have the generous length that means long and comfortable wear. Ribbon straps support them from the shoulders.

A Sale of Misses' Coats and Suits

Accomplishes Marvels in Value-Giving—

At $24.50

SO priced, these garments set a standard of value-giving which it will be difficult to surpass. Brisk, fresh and as captivating as Spring itself, they are, but far more lasting with their excellent materials and expert workmanship.

Misses' Suits at $24.50

Perhaps you feel you know the real beauties of tweed, but there is a revelation in store for you. Have you, for instance, thought of trim knitted bindings for the straightest of long box coats, or a delicious shade of Egyptian red touched with black—or phantom blue lined with amethyst?

Rose, orchid, French blue, ginger, suggest the color range.

Tricotine will never lose its smartness or position of popularity—truly tailored ones and semi-elaborate ones are included at these prices.

Sizes 14 to 18 in Suits and Coats

Misses' Sport Coats at $24.50

"Never yet on land or sea!" seems hardly extreme when applied to the purchase of Coats of the fine qualities these possess, at this price. Beautifully woven, soft fleecy coatings are either fully lined with better quality silk, or show a two-faced surface. The cut follows generous lines, the tailoring is as flawless as the most exacting of tailors can turn out.

Tweeds, chinchilla, and a soft velour fabric come in tan, brown, green, rose, and French blue.

All are modeled along trim topcoat lines.

Misses' Frocks, $19.75 and $25

FETCHING affairs of taffeta and crepe are displayed in many styles, appropriate for street and afternoon wear.

Three-piece Suits and Afternoon Frocks of taffeta, Canton crepe, tricotine, Poiret twill, crepe Romaine, moire and faille Canton—are priced $19.00 to $145.00

(Misses' Store—Third Floor.)

New Tub Silk Envelope Chemise

At $1.85

THE frill of lace or the tailored band is only a matter of choice—both are here. It is the tubbing qualities and the good wearing features of the silk that we desire to extol. Here truly is a buy which permits luxury and brings on conscience-stricken quins of extravagance. (Second Floor.)

Handkerchiefs of Unusual Value

FOR Saturday only, we offer very exceptional values in Handkerchiefs for men and women.

For Women, 25c

A pure linen Handkerchief, with hand embroidery in the corner, is not bought for this little sum ordinarily. The hemstitched hem is one-eighth of an inch wide.

For Men, 10c

Soft finish has this Cambric Handkerchief, which has neatly hemstitched hem, and is offered at an exceptionally low price.

(Main Floor.)

Sample Pieces of Neckwear, at $1.00

WE secured the surplus neck-fittings of one of New York's foremost manufacturers. The collection includes Vests and Cuffs Sets, and other novelty pieces—made of fine organdie, lace, net, and Swiss. Some are lace trimmed and others embroidered, and many are of sports materials.

(Main Floor.)

Extra-Size Skirts

Are Special Values
At $8.95 and $10.95

TRIMLY smart hang these plaited Skirts, which are generously cut and expertly tailored. The woman of generous proportions rarely finds such skillfully designed garments at the low prices we quote.

The satin-faced prunella cloth is beautifully adapted to skirts for large women, since this fabric lends itself to skillfully achieved lines.

Sashes finished with handmade fringe give a clever touch to various models.

Eponge—New Sports Fabric

Specially Purchased to Sell at 69c a Yard

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely gentleness. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

MURDER CONFESSION 'FRAMED,' POLICE SAY

Frank Novicky's Statement as to How John Arent Was Killed Doesn't Agree With Facts.

Efforts of Frank Novicky, 25 years old, of 1407 North Twelfth street, to establish himself as the murderer of John Arent, a saloon keeper at 1256 North Main street, on Dec. 24, 1920, will be opposed by Circuit Attorney Sidener. The prosecutor is convinced that the "confession" made last Monday by Novicky, who is in jail awaiting trial for a number of robberies, is a "framed" attempt to free Theodore Sadowski, 22 years old, who was convicted on his third trial and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Sidener bases his conclusion on the failure of Novicky to make his story of the killing agree with the known facts. Novicky was questioned several hours yesterday by Sidener and Lieut. Vasey and members of the homicide squad, all of whom were convinced that he was not telling the truth.

In Variance With Facts. Novicky "confessed" the crime under what he says were promptings of his conscience. His story then, repeated yesterday, was that as he and a man known to him only as Fred ordered Arent to hold up his hands yesterday and said positively that he was not one of the men who ran from the saloon, and that Novicky fired as they faced each other. The testimony in the case is that Arent had no weapon. The autopsy bore out statements of witnesses that the man who shot Arent was standing on the foot rail and fired downward at Arent as he crouched behind the bar.

Novicky says the automobile was parked on Second street facing north and that he and "Fred" encountered nobody in their flight from the saloon. The fact is that the automobile was parked on O'Fallon street, facing west, and that Robert Hartgraves of 4400 Easton avenue tried to stop the two men who ran from the saloon toward it and one drew a revolver on him.

Hartgraves, who was an important witness against Sadowski, looked at Novicky yesterday and said positively that he was not one of the men who ran from the saloon, and reiterated his declaration that Sadowski was the man.

View of the Confession. The officials suppose that Novicky's "confession" is the result of fraternizing in the jail and that he was influenced to play the heroic role of freeing another by claiming to have committed the crime, in the expectation that the "confession" would be made the basis of a plea for a light sentence, probably no longer than he is likely to receive on the several charges of robbery against him.

"TEX" RICKARD UNDER FOUR
INDICTMENTS ON GIRLS' CHARGES

Two New True Bills Accuse Sports
Promoter of Abduction; $25,000 Bail Furnished.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—"Tex" Rickard, sports promoter, is under four indictments charging him with misconduct with four school girls whose ages range from 11 to 15.

Two of the indictments, alleging abduction of Nellie Gasko, 14, and Anna Hess, 11, were returned yesterday by a Supreme Court grand jury.
The other pair handed down several days ago, charge the promoter with attacking Alice Ruck, 14, and Sarah Shoenfeld, 15.

Over protest of Rickard's counsel, Justice Wasservogel increased Rickard's bail yesterday from $10,000, fined for him when the first two indictments were returned, to $25,000.
The promoter pleaded not guilty to all of the indictments and supplied the $25,000 in cash.

Yesterday's indictments allege that Rickard abducted the Gasko girl on Nov. 12 last, and the Hess child on Dec. 18, the latter date being the one on which he is accused of attacking her companion, Alice Ruck, in a Forty-seventh street apartment.

The charges against Rickard are the outgrowth of an investigation by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

12 KNOWN DEAD AND BIG DAMAGE
RESULT OF NORTHWEST STORMS

Wind and Sleet Put 20,000 Offices of Phone Lines Out of Commission.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 24.—The Northwest is recovering today from the severe storms of Tuesday night and Wednesday that left a toll of 12 known deaths and several hundred thousand dollars damage to property.

The casualty list included: Five persons met death near Minneapolis yesterday in a collision between train No. 18 on the Great Northern Railway and a snowplow, which had been sent out to clear away huge drifts; four men were frozen to death in the Twin Cities. A woman was frozen near Langford, S. D.; a woman was electrocuted near Rochester, Minn.; a man was frozen at Dulworth, Minn.

In most parts of the Northwest, the snowfall ceased yesterday or last night and the heavy winds are subsiding. Wire communication still was tied up in many parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Wind, accompanied by sleet, yesterday put 20,000 miles of telephone lines with 40,000 telephones and 200 toll lines out of commission with a loss of $20,000 in the South Platte district, it was announced at Lincoln, Neb., last night.

$100,000,000 FEDERAL LOAN FOR RAILROAD CONCERNS WANTED

Service Body's Head Tells Interstate Commerce Commission Repairs and Purchases are Planned.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—An application for a Government loan of $100,000,000 for the national railroad service corporation was made yesterday by its president, S. Davies Wardfield, to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The loan was asked under the transportation act to facilitate the corporation's plan to purchase and repair all, or any part of the $20,000 had order freight cars now on American railroads and to provide new equipment in addition.

AUTO SHOW ATTENDED BY 8250 YESTERDAY

Total for Four Days Brought to 71,387—Exhibition Will Close Tomorrow Night.

The attendance at the automobile show yesterday was 8250, bringing the total paid attendance, for the four days of this week and last Saturday to 71,387. Gov. Hyde and Police Commissioners Miller and Brockman were among the spectators.

The show, which opened last Saturday, will close at 11 o'clock tomorrow night.

Roy D. Chapin, president of the Huron Motor Car Co. and head of the National Highway Association, attended the exhibition last night and said it was one of the finest he had ever attended. He attaches particular importance to automobile shows for the interest they create in good roads.

Willard J. Velle, president of the Velle Motors Corporation, who was also a spectator last night, said business had so improved that his company was at present 1500 cars behind on orders for spring delivery. The local Velle dealer reported six retail and 14 wholesale sales at the show this week.

One Auto Saleswoman.
The only automobile saleswoman in the show is Mrs. Florence Marshall, of 6629 Kingsbury boulevard, in the Ford exhibit. She is employed by the Kuhn-Weineyer Ford Agency, 3245 North Broadway, and worked in the exhibit Tuesday and Wednesday. She will be on the floor again this evening. Her company reported that she had made several sales.

Show Manager Robert E. Lee said every exhibitor had made one or more sales at the show, and that more trucks had been sold than at any previous show.

The Chevrolet company yesterday shipped 150 automobiles in a train of 36 cars to Minneapolis. The consignment was valued at $200,000.

The Ward-Battle Motor Co., distributors in this territory for the Maxwell and Chalmers, are expecting a trainload of these cars to reach St. Louis this week. The company reports a successful week in sales at the show.

SAYS BONUS WOULD BE BURDEN AND PUT MEN'S FAME IN DANGER

Ohio Representative in Dinner Speech Also Declares It Would Increase Unemployment.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—A bonus to service men would jeopardize their fame, place a burden on the country, which would disastrously affect many increases in employment and only temporarily alleviate the condition of needy former soldiers, Representative Charles L. Knight of Ohio declared last night in an address at the annual dinner of the Ohio Society.

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT, Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissues unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood. Just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing, it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good. Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every one of the $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

WOMEN CHARGE BROKER DEFRAUDED THEM OF $560,000

Divorced Wife of James B. Duke Declares South Nyack (N. Y.) Man Got All of Her $325,000.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Alleged to have defrauded 13 or 14 society women of at least $560,000, Alfred E. Lindsey, a broker of South Nyack, is charged with having made off with the entire personal fortune of Mrs. Lillian D. Duke, divorced wife of James B. Duke, the tobacco king.

Mrs. Duke charges Lindsey got all her cash, $325,000, and jewelry worth $50,000.

Papers filed at New York City, N. Y., allege that Lindsey, who was known also as Alfred E. Post and Richard Roe, with Mrs. Lindsey, said to have gone by the name of Elsie Behr, "learned Mrs. Duke was a woman easily influenced and deceived and they deliberately contrived to take advantage of her."

Mrs. Duke's attorneys said last night she had suffered a nervous breakdown.

Lindsey's home, an extensive country villa at South Nyack, is one of the show places of the west bank of the Hudson River. Mrs. Duke declared in her complaint that it had been bought and improved with money she lent Lindsey.

Another complaint against the missing broker is Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Arnold, a widow. She charged several days ago that he had obtained $30,000 from her on his representations that he, Percy Rockefeller and George F. Baker, were associated and had nightly meetings to "fix up the market" for the next day's trading. Rockefeller and Baker deny knowing him.

Mrs. Arnold obtained an order from Supreme Court Justice Bijur, directing the Sheriff of Rockland County to hold Lindsey's home and its contents pending the outcome of her suit to recover her money.

Lindsey was prominently identified with civil movements in South Nyack, taking a conspicuous part in Red Cross and other drives, and was always himself a large contributor.

WOMAN SAYS HUSBAND THOUGHT PAJAMAS A HINDU RELIGION

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24.—"Your Honor, the man positively is uncouth. He thinks pajamas a Hindu religion." This was one of the reasons advanced yesterday by Mrs. Alma Ward, 1019 Park avenue, why she should be granted a divorce from her husband, Marvel O. Ward, a Kansas City patrolman. She also charged he had concealed from his wife the fact that he once had been a bartender. Judge Thomas B. Burkner granted the decree. Other grounds advanced by Mrs. Ward were non-support and indignities. She said she was forced to leave Ward last November.

McADOO FOR COLLEGE TRAINING FOR LAWYERS

Gives Opinion of One "Who Never Went to Law School" on Proposal for Higher Standards.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Lawyers who have won distinction and a high place at the bar through native ability and industry and who have not had a college education may be expected naturally to offer with a certain degree of hostility their approval of the exacting standards which the American Bar Association seeks to impose upon future members of the profession. William G. McAdoo, of New York, declared today before the National Conference of Bar Association.

McAdoo said he had been "unable to go to a law school," but that the recommendation of the Bar Association that future members of the profession be obliged NOT only to take a three-year course in a law school, but in addition have at least two years' college training, was worthy of support by all those interested in the improvement of legal standards. "A conference of delegates representing the American, State and local bar associations of the country to consider the vital question of admission to the bar," said McAdoo, is a significant and dramatic event in the history of the profession. One naturally approaches such a subject from a point of view influenced in great measure by the course and experience of his own life. For example, a lawyer who has been constantly and exclusively absorbed in the active pursuit of his private practice will instinctively view the question from the standpoint of the good of the profession alone. But the lawyer whose career has taken him away at times from active practice and immersed him in great responsibilities, involved him in large responsibilities of public life, is inclined to view the problem not alone from the standpoint of the profession, but also in its wider aspects of relation to the public good as well as its effect upon the profession itself.

Different Points of View.
"Then again, the lawyer who has had the good fortune of a college education and a thorough course in a law school will naturally regard the most exacting requirements in the way of a collegiate and legal education as essential to the welfare of the profession and to the public good, whereas that great body of lawyers who have had to make their own way in the world, who have never been able to go to college and who have secured a legal training and education through hard work and struggle in the old-fashioned way, in somebody's law office, may naturally hesitate to approve the standard which the American Bar Association seeks to impose. "McAdoo declared that the value of the highest moral and ethical standards could not be overestimated when the responsibility of the lawyer to the public good is well in mind. He performs in so vital to the interest of the client. Such responsibilities, he added, make it necessary that professional education be of the highest standard.

FISCHER DIRECTS SYMPHONY PROGRAM IN KANSAS CITY

Fills Place of Ganz at Yesterday's Concert but Latter Will Be in Charge Tonight.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24.—The fourth children's program of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, directed by the largest audience of the season in Convention Hall yesterday afternoon. The section reserved for the event was filled to capacity and the program, lasting two hours and fifteen minutes, was a most successful one, largely composed of children, listened with rapt enjoyment to one of the best programs Director Ganz has yet selected.

Ganz himself was unable to be present to wield the baton, but his place was capably filled by Frederick Fischer, the assistant conductor, who has been with the St. Louis organization for many years. Fischer conducted his players with the same skill and deserved the hearty reception accorded him. He struck a masterful note in the opening number, the spirited "Coronation March" from Meyerbeer's "Le Prophete," which proved one of the most effective numbers of the afternoon. Two particularly pleasing numbers were the radically different Marston compositions, the "Dance" by Giazounoff and the "Funeral March" by Gounod. The former is a gem, not so much of descriptive orchestration as of orchestral suggestion. It is instinct with the unreality and mimicry of the puppets and is one of the daintiest orchestral effects ever produced here.

Rudolph Ganz left for Kansas City this morning to direct tonight's Symphony Concert there. It was said at his home that he was much better.

PAVES WAY FOR UNIVERSITY TRAINING FOR UNION MEMBERS

American Federation Resolution Calls for Co-operation With Workers' Education Bureau.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—By a resolution adopted at yesterday's session of its executive council, the American Federation of Labor agreed to co-operate with the Workers' Education Bureau, a New York trades union organization, in endeavoring to extend the benefits of university training to adult labor union members. The resolution will authorize a committee to study the working agreement with the bureau under which the work will be carried on.

BOTH CAROLINAS STILL CLAIMING ANDREW JACKSON

Congressmen Able to Agree Only on Fact 'It's a Devil of a Long Time Between Drinks.'

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The long standing dispute between North and South Carolina as to which State produced Andrew Jackson was debated in the House yesterday, but there was no decision. A photostatic copy of a letter by Jackson saying he was born in South Carolina was presented by representative Stevenson of that State, whereas there had been engraved into the permanent volume of the Congressional Record the myth that Jackson was born in North Carolina.

Representative Hammer of North Carolina insisted the records accepted as authentic showed beyond question that North Carolina was entitled to the honor.

As the discussion became heated, Representative Byrnes of Tennessee broke in.

"While there may be doubt as to where Jackson was born," he declared, "there was no doubt as to where he moved, once he reached his majority. He went to the volunteer State of Tennessee, there to live and die."

During the friendly wrangling members wanted to know exactly what it was that the Governor of North Carolina had said to the Governor of South Carolina on a certain historic occasion antedating the Volstead law. Stevenson swept away all doubt on this point by declaring that "it is a devil of a long time between drinks."

Missouri Delegate Advocates Indirect Method for State Revenue in Letters Sent Out.

By the Associated Press.
JERESON, Mo., Feb. 24.—Elimination of direct taxation for State revenue purposes will be proposed to the State constitutional convention by C. M. Shartel of Neosho, one of the delegates at large to that body. Circular letters advocating that all State revenue be raised by indirect methods embodied in the income, inheritance, franchise and license taxes, were received here yesterday from Shartel.

Shartel would have all incomes above $1500 for married men and in excess of $1100 for single persons, without exemptions, taxed at an equal rate, and would set aside one-fourth of the State revenue for the public schools and State educational institutions. The Neosho man would do away with the State Board of Equalization and the Tax Commission and would have control of the assessment and collection of taxes left in the hands of the counties.

"This system of taxation," he wrote, "would relieve the small farmer and the city real estate owner of paying any State taxes unless they had income sufficient to pay income taxes. It is a well-known fact that millions on millions in personal property, in the way of bonds and securities, do not pay personal property taxes in this State and are never subject to taxation. In this way the income tax will reach the income from these securities, but would relieve the securities from direct taxation for State purposes."

Shartel, who is a Republican and a former Congressman, is an attorney and a dealer in farm mortgages.

$25,000 for Memorial Fund.

The St. Louis alumni of the University of Missouri have subscribed about $25,000 to date to the Missouri Memorial Union Building Fund, it was announced today at a luncheon of the workers, at the American Association, by Dr. H. H. Shackelford, president of the association. The amount assigned to the St. Louis alumni is $50,000. Dr. John Pickard of the university addressed the meeting on the results of the campaign in other districts.

Farmer-Labor Candidate in Omaha.

By the Associated Press.
SHAWNEE, Ok., Feb. 24.—Maj. J. C. Walton of Oklahoma late yesterday was endorsed as candidate for Governor by the Farmer-Labor Restriction League of Oklahoma in its first convention here. Harry B. Correll of Tillman County was endorsed for Lieutenant-Governor. The platform adopted charged the looting of State bank guaranty funds and speaks for a national soldiers' bonus, "but not to be raised by sales tax."

VISCOUNT HARCOURT, OPPONENT OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE, DIES

Son of English Statesman; He Held Number of Government Offices; Wife From New York.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 24.—Viscount Harcourt died here last night. He was 65 years old.
Lewis Harcourt was born Feb. 1, 1863, the son of Sir William George Granville Venables-Vernon-Harcourt, English statesman. He served at various times as Privy Councillor and First Commissioner of Works, and from November, 1910, to May, 1915, was Secretary of State for Colonies.

His wife, whom he married in 1899, was Mary Dibel Burns, only daughter of the late Walter H. Burns of New York.
From 1904 until he was raised to the peerage he was a member of Parliament. He was known as a strong opponent of woman suffrage. He was offered the post of Secretary of State for Ireland in July, 1916, but declined it.

MOVIE FILM TO DEMONSTRATE EINSTEIN'S THEORY PLANNED

Belgian Scientists Believe His Conclusions Can Be Made Clear by Representations on Screen.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS.—The movies soon will be demonstrating to the public Prof. Einstein's theory of relativity, time and space. Baffling and incomprehensible to most people, Prof. Einstein's conclusions can be made clear to all if presented photographically on the screen, according to some Belgian professors.

They have already planned a film to show how time and space are relative and that either may not exist at all between the spheres, as was generally believed before Einstein. The film will represent, among other things, the earth's passage around the sun, as it will picture a huge projectile fired from a cannon at the earth's equator at sundown of one day and another at sunrise of the next day, the latter reaching the sun, before the first.

WOMAN WHO KILLED MAN ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Jessie Glover Testifies She Shot Conrad Dettert in Struggle for Possession of Revolver.

Jessie Glover, 34 years old, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit Judge Hogan's court yesterday afternoon of the second-degree murder charge against her for the slaying, on Aug. 18 last, of Conrad Dettert, 35, of 2519 Maiden Lane, with whom she lived as his common-law wife. Dettert was shot, the woman testified, in a struggle for possession of a revolver she seized after he grabbed her in a quarrel at their home and threatened her life.

She took the revolver from the top of a dresser because she thought Dettert had slipped it out of the drawer in which it was kept and intended using it upon her, she said on the stand. The quarrel between the two followed Dettert's accusing the woman of giving information to authorities which led to the seizure, two days before, of a still, six barrels of mash, and five gallons of "moonshine" whiskey in a house rented by him at 1446 North Nineteenth street.

Testimony showed Dettert, four other men, the woman and her 15-year-old daughter by another marriage, to have been drinking heavily together before the shooting, but the two were alone when the revolver was discharged. Harry Dettert, a brother, and the other two men in the house at the time told of hearing Conrad Dettert and the woman quarreling in an adjoining room just before the shot was fired.

REICHSTAG ASKED FOR LAWS TO PROTECT HEALTHY GERMANS

500 Per Cent Increase in Social Diseases Since War, is Report of Physicians.

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—In answer to many demands and warnings by medical experts, the Government has asked the Reichstag to pass a strict law to protect the healthy part of the German population from the spread of social diseases.

Physicians say there has been an increase of at least 500 per cent in the number of such diseases in Germany since the end of the war. The younger generation seems especially affected.

The proposed law provides for enforced treatment and heavy fines for those who try to evade such treatment. Persons who attempt to conceal their illness when marrying will be liable to three years' imprisonment.

FIGHT ON MISLEADING PRICE-CUT ADVERTISING

Better Business Commission to Strike at Abuse of Comparative Quotations.

A resolution advocating the adoption of standards to eliminate the abuse of comparative prices in advertisements was adopted by the National Better Business Commission of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at the Hotel Statler yesterday.

The Board of Governors was instructed in the resolution to confer with the national retail organizations to have this abuse stopped, to the end that retail advertising be improved as to its credibility and service to the public interest.

The text of the resolution follows:

"Your committee, after due consideration of the abuse of comparative prices in retail advertising, through exaggerations, to an extent that menaces the value of advertising by lessening believability and undermining public confidence in it, recommends that the board of governors of the National Better Business Commission be instructed to confer immediately with national retail organizations, such as the National Retail Dry Goods Association, the National Garment Retailers, the National Furniture Retailers of the United States and the National Shoe Retailers, as well as the Associated Retail Advertisers, looking to the adoption of standards eliminating the abuse of comparative price claims and the definite improvement of retail advertising, in order that its business efficiency and service to the public may be increased."

Dinner Given for Secretaries.
The St. Louis Advertising Club was host to the Better Business Bureau secretaries, in convention here, at a dinner at Hotel Statler last night.

Charles Henry Mackintosh of New York, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, was the chief speaker. He complimented the St. Louis Better Business Bureau in its constructive work in fighting frauds, and pronounced it one of the most effective bureaus in the country. Advertising, he said, can be no better than the thing advertised, and the successful advertiser must be a specialist in distribution. All advertising clubs, he said, must become tremendous forces in distribution.

Other speakers were Merle Sidener of Indianapolis, former chairman of the Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Club of the World and recently elected member of the Board of Trustees which is to have supervision of the 33 Better Business Bureaus in the United States; Oscar Morris of Milwaukee and John Ring Jr., Max Koenigsberg and George S. Johns of St. Louis.

Business Men Co-Operating.
Sidener attended the sessions of the convention yesterday, and said the reports showed that the business men of the country generally are co-operating in the campaign to promote honesty in business.

"The secretaries of the bureaus," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "are fired with an enthusiasm rarely exceeded by that of a spiritual evangelist."

"The business men have come to realize that their purpose is to render service and that they must do this to maintain the confidence and good will of the public. The very men who, 10 years ago, scoffed at the Associated Advertising Club's suggestion to 'clean house' in business dealings, and called us reformers, are the staunchest supporters of the cause today."

"The Better Business Bureau of St. Louis is a striking example of what the Associated Advertising Club's campaign for truth in commercial advertising means. It has shown the business men of St. Louis that a falsehood in advertising is a liability instead of an asset, and that the work of the bureau is constructive and not destructive in its relation to business. The local bureau has done good work in running down fraudulent and get-rich-quick schemes."

ANTHRACITE COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS ARE TO MEET SOON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 24.—A joint conference of the anthracite coal operators and the miners will be held at an early date, when the wage demands of the workers for the ensuing year will be presented. It was stated last night on the arrival here of members of the Policy Committee of the Anthracite Association to attend a meeting today called by the chairman of the committee.

The Policy Committee tomorrow will deal with the question of wages and matters of general policy among the anthracite operators.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 24.—The Pittsburg Vein Operators' Association and the Ohio Coal Operators' Association yesterday joined with the Southern Ohio (Hocking Valley) and Pennsylvania Bituminous coal operators in refusing to agree to meet officials of the United Mine Workers of America here March 2 to set a date for preliminary negotiations over a new wage agreement effective April 1.

The Pittsburg operators who control mines in Eastern Ohio and employ about 18,000 miners voted however, to send representatives providing President John L. Lewis of the Mine Workers "is able to obtain a meeting at which the operators of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Western Pennsylvania, comprising the central competitive field, will all be represented."

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD

Instantly Opens Every Air Passage — Clears Throat

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more hawking or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stuffiness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.

PSYCHIATRIC CLINIC FOR JUVENILE COURT PROPOSED

Judges of Circuit Court to Meet Tomorrow to Pass on Request of Judge Garesche.

Judges of the Circuit Court will meet in general term tomorrow to consider a proposal for the establishment of a psychiatric clinic in connection with the Juvenile Court. The meeting was called by Presiding Judge Wilson Taylor at the request of Judge Garesche of the Juvenile Court.

The National Committee for Mental Hygiene has proposed to establish the clinic on a cost-sharing basis for the study and treatment of mental conditions of delinquent children. Judge Taylor said the city would have to provide two or three rooms for the clinic in the children's building and pay about $7500 a year for maintenance.

The personnel of the clinic would be a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a psychiatric social worker. Such a clinic is operated in connection with the Juvenile Court of Cleveland, O., and the Judge of that court is said to be enthusiastic about its accomplishments.

The movement has the support locally of a number of social organizations, including the Big Brothers. It also is advocated by Dr. Charles W. Thierry and Dr. M. A. Bliss, president of the Missouri Society for Mental Hygiene.

BOMB ROCKS DETECTIVE BUREAU

Explosion in Chicago Loop Alarms Hotel Guests.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. — Windows were shattered and downtown office buildings shaken by the explosion of a dynamite bomb early last night. The explosion, which was heard in all parts of the loop and alarmed guests in nearby hotels, was at 179 North LaSalle street, just two doors from the Central detective bureau, which was rocked by its force.

It was believed that the bomb was intended for the detective bureau in an effort to effect a jail delivery, as several prisoners were held there at the time.

BOYCOTT IN EGYPT AGAINST BRITISH GOODS

Hearing of Success in India of That Plan, Natives Adopt Same Method.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Jan. 30.—In declaring a boycott against all goods of English manufacture, the Egyptians have adopted the tactics of the Nationalists of India. They have heard that the Indians have been successful in their attempt to boycott British goods and are endeavoring to use the same means to bring the British Government to terms.

The extent of the boycott is not clear. However, many Egyptian merchants are refusing to buy English goods, and salesmen calling on Egyptian customers are promptly told that they wish no quotations on such merchandise.

But the great majority of importers and exporters are foreigners, who desire to continue to buy and sell in the best markets. Effect might be serious. If the Egyptians are able to hold together on the boycott program and force the importers to no longer deal in English cotton piece goods, iron and steel products, the result may be serious for English factories in Lancashire and Birmingham.

British banks are included in the boycott. It is stated that considerable sums of money have been withdrawn from English banks in Egypt and placed in other foreign banks. School boys have boycotted the schools, and the native bar association voted to suspend all work.

It has been proposed also to restrict the cultivation of Egyptian cotton, which would be of interest to the cotton growers of the United States.

Would Withhold Onions. It has been suggested that the Egyptians refuse to export onions to England, which now takes 80 per cent of the Egyptian onion crop.

Certain members of the Effendi class, Egyptians of leisure, have announced that they would cease to drink English whiskey and refuse to wear short-cropped mustaches as the English do.

SAILORS SAY SCHOONER CAPTAIN ENDED HIS LIFE AT SEA

Craft Found Drifting Off Florida Straits With Crew Unable to Navigate Her.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 24.—Capt. J. N. Chute of the four-masted schooner Lewis Bros., killed himself at sea, according to members of the crew. The vessel was picked up by the steamer Sabine Sun and towed into Key West, Fla., where she is being held for salvage. The schooner was found drifting off the Florida Straits with her crew unable to navigate her. The schooner sailed Feb. 9 from Pensacola, Fla., for Valencia, Spain, with lumber.

Poisoned! By Kidney Failure

A tragic train of suffering follows quickly, whenever the kidneys fail, even slightly in acting to filter the waste and poison from the system. So ever on your guard for neglect of this function sometimes proves fatal. Just the simple, soothing, balm? effect that comes from using Balmwort TAB LET will soon banish backache, headache, restlessness, hot flashes and chills after voiding, pains in joints, swelling, heart and ankles, rheumatism, nervousness, lassitude, and a tired "all in" feeling that indicates, perhaps, a kidney-poisoned system. Mr. John Shore, 1151 South A St., Fort Smith, Ark., writes: "I have been taking your Balmwort Tablets for a very bad case of kidney trouble. Since taking them I can sleep peacefully all night and do not have any more trouble." Alvin Trough, 3627 South Twenty-Fourth St., Omaha, Neb., writes: "I have used one tube of your Balmwort Tablets and find that they are the best I have ever used for kidney and bladder trouble." Here's the Happy Way to Rid Yourself of Constipation PERMANENTLY!

Bran is the most wonderful health food known! Nine-tenths of human life would be eliminated if all the people would eat bran regularly, because bran corrects constipation! Constipation can be blamed as the starting point of 90% of the sicknesses! Bran is deliciously palatable form—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumble—will give permanent relief from constipation if eaten regularly each day. We guarantee that results will prove astounding if at least two table spoonfuls are eaten daily. Chronic cases should use as much as is needed. Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation. It is not only surely effective as a permanent relief if eaten regularly, but it is the ideal way to correct constipation through food!

Kellogg's Bran is not a cathartic—it is nature's food that will not only delight your palate but safeguard your health! Start the children eating Kellogg's Bran. It builds strong bodies! Serve bran to your family as a cereal or on other cereals! Use it generously making muffins, macaroons, raisin bread or in a hundred appetizing ways! Pancakes made of Kellogg's Bran are the best you ever ate! The consistent use of Kellogg's Bran will clear up a pimply skin and purify the blood. Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, prevents a bad breath from the stomach and intestines. Your grocer has it. P. S. By the way, it's a happy-health-habit to keep Kellogg's Bran on the dining table all the time! Sprinkle it on your food!

If Ruptured Try This Free

Anyone ruptured, man, woman or child, should call at our office at once for free trial of the Rice Method, including the wonderful Lymphatic Stimulating Application. Just put it on the ruptured and the muscles begin to tighten; they begin to bind together so the opening closes naturally and the need of a support or truss is done away with. Don't neglect to call or send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother, what is the use of wearing trusses all your life? Why suffer this nuisance? Why run the risk of gas-gone and such dangers from a small and innocent little rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around. Follow the example of the thousands who have accepted our great free trial offer and later reported solid and lasting cures. It is certainly a wonderful thing and has aided in the cure of ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and call today before serious trouble comes. Office hours: 9 to 12 a. m., 1 to 6 p. m., and Monday and Wednesday evenings, 7 to 9. Sundays, 10 to 1. If you cannot call at once, phone Olive 2007 or Central 1561, or write, and a free demonstrating trial and book of valuable information about rupture will be mailed you without charge. William W. Rice, Inc., Counsel Bluffs, Room 218, 114 North Seventh St., St. Louis, Mo.

THIRD YOUTH ADMITS PART IN BANK HOLDUP

Leo W. Tighe, Chauffeur, Says
He Aided in Robbery of Pine Lawn Institution.

Leo W. Tighe, 22 years old, of 1825
Washington place, St. Louis County, a chauffeur, has confessed that he was one of three men who held up the Pine Lawn Bank, 6149 Natural Bridge avenue, Jan. 25, when about $2000 was taken. He was arrested in St. Charles yesterday, following the confessions of William Foley, 19, of 6124 Ridge avenue, and Arthur Smith, 21, of 6210 Lenox avenue, that they and Tighe had committed the robbery.

"We planned the job three days before the holdup," said Tighe. "Foley stole an automobile from the Harlan Court garage, 5455 Delmar boulevard, and we drove directly to the bank. I had a mask and revolver.
Says He Wore a Mask.

"Foley and I entered the bank. I put on the mask and pointed the revolver at the president and cashier.
When I ordered them to put up their hands they fell upon the floor. We gathered the money from the cashier's cage and a vault and I put it in a white linen bag which I carried.

"We then drove to the Valhalla Cemetery on the St. Charles road, where we abandoned the automobile. From there we walked to a saloon at Ridge and Hadamont avenues. I dumped the money on a table in the back room and divided it.
We each got $667.

Lost Part of Look at Day
"I spent $125 for clothing, and got rid of the mask of my friends and shooting dice. I threw the revolver and mask away."

Tighe had $100.00 when arrested.
The bills were identified as part of the money stolen from the bank.
Tighe, Foley and Smith have been turned over to the Sheriff of St.
Louis County, the bank robbery having occurred there.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS IN SUPPORT OF THE 85 CENT SCHOOL TAX

Expresses Hope for Majority in Favor of Measure at School Association's Annual Meeting.

Gov. Hyde, at the twenty-third annual reunion of the St. Louis School Patrons' Alliance at Hotel Statler last night, approved the 85-cent school tax in St. Louis and said he hoped that at the election, April 28, there would be a substantial majority to continue the tax.

He said the St. Louis schools had a national reputation for excellence, and that the way to maintain this high standard was to provide sufficient funds to employ good teachers and to have adequate buildings and proper facilities.

The Governor also told of the rural school conditions in Missouri, and said that only through fair valuation assessment of property, which the State Board of Equalization under this administration approached in its last assessment, could sufficient funds be had to raise the standard of rural schools. The income in each of 612 rural school districts under the old assessment, he said, was less than $200 a year.

President Tobin of the Board of Education spoke on the necessity for two additional high schools, one in the northern portion of the city and one in the southern. He said 8000 school children were being taught in portable schools in rented rooms or were limited to half-day attendance.
Superintendent of Instruction Maddux said the 85-cent tax was needed to provide for the natural increase in number of pupils.

Former Veronica Mulvihill Also Has Maiden Name Restored.
Mrs. Veronica Mulvihill Schwarz of 5037 Washington boulevard, daughter of the late Michael Mulvihill, furniture dealer, obtained a divorces yesterday from Walter C. Schwarz, 4297 Westminster place, secretary of the Mulvihill Furniture Co.

She testified that he called her names and absented himself from home without explanation. They were married Feb. 21, 1918, at Jun-tion City, Kan., and separated Feb. 6 last, after Schwarz had been absent for five days. It was testified Schwarz, who was an infantry lieutenant at Camp Funston at the time of the marriage, did not contest the suit. His wife's maiden name was restored.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR MAN WHO FLOURISHED REVOLVER

Earl Dowling Also Fined $100 as Result of Incident in Restaurant

Last November, Earl Dowling, 4017 Greenleaf place, was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in jail yesterday by a jury in Circuit Judge Miller's court which found him guilty of assault in the restaurant of Stanley Hoffman at 4328 Lee avenue, Nov. 28 last.

Dowling originally was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to rob, but the jury disregarded the robbery charge and found him guilty only of assault. Dowling's attorney filed a motion for a new trial.

Policeman William Eckle of the Angelica Street Police Station testified that he was sitting in the restaurant when Dowling entered, and drawing his revolver, said: "Get out all your dollars." Eckle, whom Dowling had not seen, then arrested him and his indictment followed.

Dowling testified that he and Hoffman had been out together several evenings before the alleged assault and that Hoffman, in Dowling's absence, had spent the night at the Greenleaf place address. Dowling said that when he returned he found that the safe had been robbed and he immediately went to Hoffman's restaurant and told him: "I want you to come up to Greenleaf place and square that safe job."

A charge of carrying concealed weapons is still pending against Dowling.

Avoid Diphtheria

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house always. 85c., 60c. and $1.00.

Will the Soldiers Get A Bonus?

To the jobless ex-fighter who needs the cash, to the Congressman who needs votes in November, to the taxpayer who must eventually foot the bill, the question whether a bonus shall be paid to our soldiers of the great war and how the money is to be raised to pay it, is of increasing interest.

To raise the money to pay a bonus various new taxes are suggested. The idea of legalizing and taxing the sale of light wines and beers won the enthusiastic advocacy of the New York World. The National Grange comes out for an excess profits tax. Some Congressmen suggest that taxation may be avoided by paying a tax out of the savings realized by reductions in the Navy and in Army and Navy personnel.

Why tax anybody, asks Arthur Brisbane in the New York American, "why not simply print the currency and pay the soldiers with perfectly good money manufactured by the Government at the cost of paper and printing, without taxing anyone or disturbing any business?"

The Daily News, New York, defends the bonus as "simple justice to the nation's defenders" and "an investment in good-will." The financial objections do not greatly impress the Seattle Times, which "ventures the modest prediction that bonus legislation will be enacted at this session and that money will be found with which to finance the payment to former service men."

But the opposition to the bonus is being vigorously voiced by such widely scattered dailies as the New Haven Journal Courier, Newark News, Syracuse Herald, Buffalo Commercial, Philadelphia Inquirer, Dallas News, and Louisville Courier-Journal, not to mention the truck loads of letters and telegrams being sent to the Capitol and the White House.

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents all the arguments current for and against the bonus, and the various methods that have been suggested to finance it.

Blouin Clinches First Place In Bowling Tourney

Chicago Star Winner in Matches
With Wolf and Halberg Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—It is now a fight for second position in the world's classic bowling tournament, which winds up here tonight. Four men are battling for the second berth. Jimmy Smith, Milwaukee; Mort Lindsey, Stamford; Oscar Halberg and Phil Wolf, Chicago, all have a good chance for the second prize of $300.

Jimmy Smith, Milwaukee's famous war, has the best chance of landing in second place. Smith is combined with Mort Lindsey, who has defeated the other three men. Lindsey has booked to meet Blouin tonight. This is bound to be a real series and a hard one for the Easterner.

Blouin, from Bluff, Iowa's famous poplar, blue, clinched the championship in his two matches yesterday. With a fair hold on first position, Blouin plied up enough impossible for any of the other men to nose him out. First prize is $1500 and custody of the $500 diamond medal.

PRICES IRREGULAR ACTIVE TRADE ON STOCK MARKET

Good Buying of Rails Feature—Motors Also Well Taken—Independent Steels Quite Weak on Republic Preferred Dividend—Passing.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The opening of the stock market today was active, with a general upward movement. The market was characterized by a strong demand for rails, which were sold at a premium. Motors and independent steels were also well taken, while Republic preferred dividend was passed.

After a considerable period, during which the market had been characterized by a general upward movement, the market today was active, with a general upward movement. The market was characterized by a strong demand for rails, which were sold at a premium. Motors and independent steels were also well taken, while Republic preferred dividend was passed.

Profit taking continued in the commodity markets. May cotton receded to 17.75 cents, but recovered 14 points and closed at 18.14 points. The decline in the price of cotton was due to a combination of factors, including a strong demand for rails, which were sold at a premium. Motors and independent steels were also well taken, while Republic preferred dividend was passed.

The Investment Market.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Foreign issues continued to feature the strong, domestic issues, including rails, which were sold at a premium. Motors and independent steels were also well taken, while Republic preferred dividend was passed.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—There was great irregularity in all the principal markets today. Stocks were strong, however, with the exception of the steel shares and one or two specialties. The steel market was influenced by the omission of a dividend on Republic Iron and Steel, which was heavily sold off.

The Bond Market.
Foreign external loans—the outstanding features of the bond trading all this week—followed the reaction in exchange rates today and the market generally was under the influence of government issues. French Government issues were in demand, and the market touched record high levels, then sold off as an old Kingdom 5 1/2% was introduced.

BLIND WIFE NOT HELD FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Mrs. Charles Boers, However, Is Ordered Sent to Hospital for Observation.

A verdict that Charles Boers, found dead early Monday morning at his home, 1402A Franklin avenue, was strangled, manner and cause unknown, was returned by a Coroner's jury at the conclusion of the inquest today.

Assistant Coroner Arthur C. Gering ordered Mrs. Julia Boers, blind wife of Boers, to the observation ward of the city hospital, saying that if diagnosis there confirmed the opinion of Police Captain Stinger, that she is insane, he will have her committed to the city sanitarium.

Capt. Stinger and Patrolman Marcano were the only witnesses. Marcano told of finding Boers dead when Mrs. Boers called him in at 1:45 a. m. Monday. He was in a sitting posture on a chair, with his head resting on his hands on the back of an upholstered chair. His shirt collar was unbuttoned and there was a mark low down on his neck, which was swollen. It looked to him as if the shirt had compressed the man's neck. An empty whisky bottle was near by. He found nothing in the room with which the man might have been strangled.

Capt. Stinger testified that Mrs. Boers, when questioned, admitted everything that the questions implied and in the next breath denied what she had just admitted. He asked her how she choked her husband and she placed her fingers on Stinger's throat and shook him the way she said she shook her husband to awaken him, but there was no strength in her fingers, he said. Her statements were incoherent. At one time she said Boers became cold when she shook him and at another time said he became warm. She said she had three brains, one of which was crazy.

Her statement that a negro entered through a window was refuted by the condition of the window. There was no evidence of a struggle and Mrs. Boers, who had $10, was not robbed. It was his opinion, Capt. Stinger said, that the man's death was accidental, caused by the constriction of the neck band of his shirt, due to the unnatural posture of his body in a drunken stupor.

Deputy Coroner Dever was of the opinion, from the report of the autopsy, that death could not have occurred in that way. Stinger said he believed that Mrs. Boers strangled her husband and she did not know it.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How to Treat.
Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and the waste, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial stimulants are not needed to work these and may do real harm. They irritate the delicate stomach lining and instead of getting rid of the excess of stomach acid, they add a few more. Stomach trouble is a common ailment and a quarter glass of water right after eating. This stimulates the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. GEORGE SELLING HIS SEX INTO BONDAGE, SAYS WRITER

Letters From Post-Dispatch Readers Point Out Defects in British Lecturer's Knowledge of American Women.

Editor of the Woman's Page:

W. L. George is not an expert on women. He is a sentimental dupe who is exceedingly fond of women because he doesn't understand them. Flattery a man who really knew women marrying three times! There's some excuse for the first marriage—all of us are young once, and the average man of 25 is a cupid than at any other age, while the woman of 25 is at her sharpest. But subsequent experiments are not excusable on any ground.

No man should trust George, who obviously is bent on selling his sex into bondage. When you find a man saying "A bad marriage is better than none," and "Better be miserably married than single"—then you can put him down either as a mawkish fellow incapable of controlling his basest emotions, or as a professional feminist.

Why, forsooth, is a dull marriage better than none? This is merely a windy phrase to stimulate the votes into the matrimonial corral. Knowing that virtually all marriages are dull, George goes to bat for the gals, and asserts that even such marriages are better than none at all. Stuff! Among intelligent men this evokes the same merciless laughter that the chaplain arouses in the prison chapel when he tells the lifers that the chain gang has advantages over freedom. What he means is that it has less excitement and more monotony, and that is exactly what George means.

To be sure, there is a large class of men who demand just such an existence, and, for such men, marriage or the penitentiary is the logical resort. Included in the class we will find those who are too timid to get on alone in the world, those who must be babied, those who need somebody to think for them, and similar lots. If women would confine their quest for husbands to this proper sphere, there would be no cause for complaint. Helpless males would be provided with keepers, and the average woman would get a meal ticket.

But George makes no such discrimination. No doubt he considers himself a superior man, and, therefore, it may be argued, he teaches by example that superior men should wed—a lesson which, if put into practice, would ultimately reduce the race to the level of dairy animals. For it is through the withdrawal of superior men from marriage that the arts and philosophy are maintained. This intellectual class is necessarily small, and so far as the general ratio is concerned, their absence will hardly make any difference. It is necessary to have a business class, an industrial class and other inferior orders of men.

There can be no Napoleons without common soldiers, and the magnificent France which Louis XIV left the world was built by day laborers. It is highly necessary, therefore, that a majority—in fact, about 99 per cent—of the population should marry in order to produce more merchants, bankers, ditch diggers and railroad executives. The sordid occupations of the world have to be held by someone. But let the depressing business be kept within its proper confines. Let Zarathustra carry a whip. STRINDBERG.

What of W. L. George and His Knowledge of Women?

W. L. GEORGE, English writer, is a recent lecturer in St. Louis, announced that he knows all about women. He gave much advice about handling marriage problems and his talk has been widely commented upon. The Post-Dispatch invites readers to discuss Mr. George's theories through these columns. Write letters briefly and on one side of the paper only. Address them to the Editor of the Woman's Page.

Here are a few of the George maxims that are open to discussion:

DON'T open each other's letters.

If you must be sincere (brutally frank), let it be in private.

Once a day say to your wife: "I love you." Once a day say to your husband: "How strong you are." If the latter is too badly propositioned, substitute: "How clever you are"—everybody believes that.

(For husbands) If it seems hard to be married to her, remember she's married to you.

(For both) Forgive your partner seventy times seven, and then burn the account book.

MARRIAGE was invented as a cure for sin, but it is often a cure for love.

A bad marriage is better than none.

Marry early and not too often.

Marriage is the only insurance company that issues policies against loneliness.

Men always concentrate on business; women always concentrate on men.

Most men don't take enough notice of marriage to get tired of it.

Every home should be a domestic republic, with woman suffrage.

People who commit that fatal error of "settling down" usually are settling down to a life of misery.

his sports, outdoors or indoor. If we go out in the evening, where there are other men and women, we are not flocking together and leaving the men to flock to themselves. At the theater or in the public dining room you can identify the married couples by the fact that they do not converse. Maybe the American wife leaves her husband to his own devices until he runs off of some "other woman." Too much study of the other woman nearly always reveals her as shallow, though, and usually she does become "merely an incident."

Our men do not study women, but women in this country are not content. They are the root and power of all evil and good. We would become a great deal more "incidental" if men really did study us. I fear a man who has been married four times, upon reading Mr. George's discourse, remarked wistfully: "I wish I knew as little about women as that fellow does. But that man was a rare exception. Too many women had given him the opportunity intimately to study them, so they had become mere incidents."

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS

Mr. George tells us what all married persons the world over already know, and therefore he strikes a responsive chord in each of us. He reduces the obvious to bright and snappy epigrams, and in this he entertains us. He did not give us any new information about ourselves and when he disclosed what he learned of Americans in his firsthand study he revealed that he is not capable of learning everything about us in a short time.

"Women, to the American man, are merely an incident," he said, "when every woman in this country knows that women are the inspiration, the inspiration, the driving force behind everything the men are doing in this country. American women have got American men bluffed, not into submission exactly, but into bustling forth and making greater men of themselves."

"You American men do not study women as men do in Paris where I was brought up," adds Mr. George while introducing himself as an expert on women. The woman writer of this letter believes that is true, but she thinks it is just as well for all concerned that our American men don't study us too closely. After we are married to them, if we are wise, we do not give them the opportunity to study us too closely.

In their hours of leisure we leave our husbands largely to their own devices. We do not interrupt him if he is reading or putting around the house. We do not join him at

A DAILY DOUBLE PA "Out of Nowhere" A NEW ROMANCE

By Ruby Ayres

CHAPTER XIV.

He looked so undisturbed and serene. He flicked carelessly at the long grass with his stick as he walked.

Violet stayed with him until half past 1. She did not want to stay. She would rather have been in her room at Mrs. Higgs' with Ronnie in her lap than in the greatest hurry with Hastings. He looked disappointed when, at the park gates, she told him she must go home.

"I suppose I must not offer to go with you," he said.

She shook her head.

"Oh, no, thank you. I can get a bus nearly to the door. It is not very far, and thank you very much for the chocolates."

"It's nothing to thank me for," said Hastings disinterestedly.

He wondered why he felt so depressed. No woman had ever before influenced his spirits in the slightest degree. He was angered that Violet should have done so.

He looked at her with somber eyes. Mentally he compared her to gaudy butterflies of his acquaintance. He supposed she would look shabbily, cheaply dressed beside them, and yet—she thought her plain coat and skirt and the old Cambridge hat more charming than the scented silks and ostrich feathers beside which he had walked for so many bored hours.

"When shall I see you again?" he asked. "I am afraid that I shall have to go to the Clancy's tomorrow night. I dare say you have seen Miss Clancy. She often goes to Violet's."

"Yes, I have seen her."

"Yes, I don't see you at all tomorrow then," he asked.

Violet forced herself to laugh. She did not feel like laughing. There was a pang of fear at her heart. Tomorrow would be the third of the six precious days. Afterward she would have only two left, and what were two days?

"That rests with you," she said lightly. She hated herself for the insinuation. She would have sunk through the ground with shame and yet the thought of Ronnie—Ronnie—she forced herself to think of him every second. The memory of his little face kept her to her great determination. The echo of his voice brought the sudden tears to her eyes. Hastings bent toward her and said:

"You want to see me? Should you be sorry if I could not meet?" The words were almost a whisper.

Violet flushed angrily. How dared he presume such a thing? Hot passions words of denial rose to her lips, but she crushed them back; that was her chance—this was her moment. She dared not raise her eyes lest he should see their anger, but she answered him in an unsteady voice.

"You—know—I shall."

He did not answer for a moment. It was growing dusk. There were few people about. Suddenly she realized that he was holding her hand—that he was speaking rapidly.

"Will you let me take you out for a day in my car? Madame will allow you a day. I will speak to her. Don't be angry with me, but I seem to have known you all my life. I can't explain that. It's only a few days. Will you? May I?" He spoke breathlessly. "We'll go just where you like. Only say you will come."

Violet stood very still. Her hand was cold in his. Her lips were set in a smile that she hardly knew was there, but she knew vaguely that she was smiling, that she was smiling which day they should go.

"The day after tomorrow — is that too soon? Will you come the day after tomorrow?"

Violet looked up then. His eager eyes were upon her. She jerked her hand free. She looked to him. "No"—to refuse indignantly — but there was Ronnie!

She answered him coldly.

"The day after tomorrow will suit me very well—If Madame will allow me to go."

Ronnie was in bed when she reached home. He lay with his eyes fast closed. Violet knelt down beside him and rested her head on the pillow close to his. She felt warm out and sick with shame for the part she was playing, and tonight somehow — the presence of that child did not raise the feeling away — it scared her heart like a hot iron.

She had always been so proud, and now—Warm arms stole about her neck, a chuckling laugh broke in upon her thoughts.

"I'm awake all the time," said Ronnie excitedly. He closed his eyes many times—wet, rapturous kisses.

"Oh, Ronnie, Ronnie!"

Violet clasped his warm little body in her arms and burst into tears.

Ronnie was all tender concern.

In an instant. He tried to wipe her tears away with his little night-shirt. He patted her hair, and called her "Mummy girl." Presently, when she was quieter, he asked her gravely if she had been naughty.

Violet smiled, an April smile.

"Oh, Ronnie, I'm afraid I have."

Ronnie looked very wise.

"I foughted so," he said, confidently. "Hugs always says I've been naughty if I kiss. Is you silly?"

He asked, anxiously.

Violet wiped her tears away fiercely. "No, Ronnie, I'm not a bit sorry."

Ronnie chuckled complacently.

"I don't think I was, either," he said.

Olivia Hale was a very shrewd woman; had she been a man she would have been both rich and successful; she often said that she wished she could change her sex.

She despised women for the most part. She never made friends of them. She despised most of the men she knew, too, but she found them useful.

The morning after she had told Violet she had finally broken with Mr. Green of the ribbon department, she sought that unfortunate gentleman as he stood waiting for customers, looking very miserable and more significant than usual.

His shadowy face flushed when he saw Olivia. He came forward with nervous eagerness, rubbing his hands. One would have thought at the very least that she was a duchess come for the express purpose of buying up the entire stock, judging by the look of pleasurable anticipation on his face.

The poor little man had passed a wretched night. He had not slept a wink. He had bedewed his pillow with love-long tears. He had risen at dawn and penned a despairing letter to Olivia, a letter which he destroyed as soon as it was finished, possibly because he realized it was a futile appeal.

There was no doubt that he was genuinely in love with her. He admired her more than any woman he had ever seen, and—she proudly reminded her of the many women whom she had seen during the pursuit of his duty. Olivia gave him a careless good-morning as he came up to her. She frowned a little as she spoke.

She hated the writhing curve of his back and the way he rubbed his hands. He had looked at her, plainly the previous evening that she was sick of him, and it was no more than the truth. She was sick of him, but she thought he might still be useful.

"I'm sorry to trouble you, Mr. Green," she said conciliatingly. "I hope you are not very busy, but if you have a moment to spare—"

Mr. Green protested that all his life was at her disposal. He had been thinking the same thing a hundred times before. If he had not it would have been a good deal better for her. Olivia hated that called "traveling worms." She would have been the slave of a man who could master her. Fortunately she had had never yet come across one.

"I don't want your life," she said with a little unkind laugh. "I only want a little bit of it at least. Can you find out where Mr. Ronald Hastings of Violet's lives—his private address, I mean?"

Mr. Green's receding jaw dropped. He pulled at the silk lapel of his frock coat with nervous hands. He looked very much as if he would have liked to burst into tears.

Olivia was right when she said he was weak—he was most pitifully. But he would have given his life for her had she desired it, and given it gladly. Love such as that is not without its merits, but Olivia would have greatly preferred a fine looking man, and one who could master her. Appearances counted greatly for happiness with her.

"Well," she exclaimed sharply, to be made no answer.

Mr. Green began to stammer a reply. In an instant he had seen a formidable rival for Ronald Hastings. He was instantly jealous of every man who looked at Olivia. He asked her what she wanted with his address. "You're not—don't say you're leaving Carlisle," he implored.

Olivia laughed. She was pleased at his evident distress.

"Of course not, Edward," she said. She smiled sufficiently to use his Christian name. "I only wanted to know if you had a little matter of business. Can you find out for me? You know so many people, and I don't know where to inquire."

Mr. Green raised his shoulders. He looked at her with a tribute to his extensive acquaintance. He promised to see what he could do.

"He's away a great deal," he said importantly. "I'm not at all sure that he isn't in New York now." In his heart he sincerely hoped he was, but Olivia laughed.

"Oh, no, he isn't; he's in London—very much in London," she added, twinkling of the latter she had seen addressed to him two nights before in Violet's handwriting.

As she turned to go Mr. Green followed timidly.

"You didn't mean what you said last night?" he pleaded abjectly.

"You were only playing with me, Olivia."

One of the assistants hurried up. He thrust a cash book under Mr. Green's nose.

"Sign," he said laconically.

Olivia escaped.

Olivia went straight to Violet's room when she got home that night. She was feeling very pleased with herself for just as she left Hastings' a paper had been brought to her from Mr. Green.

"Darling Olivia—the address you want is 215 Hyde Park, but I am sure he is in New York."

Olivia made a mental note of the address and tossed the paper away. She had so many notes from Mr. Green. There was no longer any novelty about them.

OYSTER PEPPERS

SKIN and halves three large red peppers, then butter them inside and out and fit them into a buttered pie shell. Take a solid pint of medium-sized oysters, dry them on a towel, add to them a beaten egg, a tablespoonful of soft butter, pepper, salt, half a teaspoonful of curry powder, half a teaspoonful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of cream. Fill the pepper shells and bake the top of each with a little grated cheese. Bake for eight or ten minutes until a delicate brown. Tomato sauce may be served with the peppers if desired.

RAISIN AND RICE MOLD

ONE cup seeded raisins, 1 cup rice, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon butter.

Put rice in three quart boiling water and boil hard for 15 minutes. Drain, mix with raisins which have been washed and separated, and put in top of double boiler with 1/2 cup of water and 1 teaspoon salt. Steam 40 minutes. Mold in single large mold or cups, turn out on individual plates and serve with whipped cream.

CUSTARD SAUCE

ONE cup milk, two egg yolks, one-fourth cup sugar, one teaspoon vanilla. Scald milk in double boiler; beat yolks slightly, add sugar. Pour scalded milk over egg mixture, then return to double boiler and cook, stirring constantly until mixture will coat a spoon. Flavor and chill.

The Heart of a Girl

A Story of Romance and a Business Career in St. Louis
By Caroline Crawford

CHAPTER VII.

A Call From Marion Minton. PETER Peggy finished writing her letter to Townley she leaned back in her chair and gazed contentedly at her flowers. Despite the pain her sprained ankle caused her she found herself looking forward to 10 days' vacation from the office. She felt that every girl who goes to business gets into a rut and becomes a piece of machinery, arising at a certain hour, spending so many hours in the office with an intermission for luncheon, and then going back to work until it is time to go home. Day after day of this takes away individuality, illusions and ideas.

Now, as she sat with drowsy eyes and gazed first at her orchids from Jack and then at her violets from Billy she saw things in a different light. This business routine could not go on forever. She would not be 18 always and free and happy in her girlish desire to have as many beaux as possible. She must choose one of these men for her husband. She must at least become engaged and plan for the future.

Late in the afternoon Peggy was still pondering over her future. Her thoughts were divided between Harrison Townley and Billy Bracton. Then just before the dinner hour Marion Minton dropped in to see her and upset all her plans.

"What beautiful orchids, Peggy!" exclaimed Marion. "I know Billy sent the violets, but where did those come from?"

"Little Jack Horner, of course," laughed Peggy.

"Jack is frightfully attentive to you," mused Marion. "Too bad you don't care more for him, Peggy."

"He's a homely little fellow."

"That's a nice way to talk about him."

"Well, isn't he?" demanded Peggy.

"He is and he isn't," replied Marion.

"What do you think makes a homely man attractive?" asked Peggy, just trying to draw Marion out.

"Well, if a man has personality and knows how to talk and how to make money, that's all a girl cares about."

"And you think Jack has those qualities?"

"I know he has."

"I thought you'd like him that night I left you skating with him," said Peggy, half to herself and half to Marion.

"Since you don't care a cookie about him I might as well confess I'm head over heels in love with Jack Reed," whispered Marion.

"Go on," encouraged Peggy.

"But he doesn't give a snap of his fingers for me," nervously giggled Marion. "What on earth can a girl do when a man is wildly in love with another girl and never pays the slightest attention to her?"

"Oh, she can sort of play the dear little sister act, get him to talking about the other girl, then knock her and gradually win him herself!"

"You talk as if you had had experience!"

"Nothing like that in my family," proudly announced Peggy. "I simply have imagination."

"You simply have a magnetic power which is overwhelming," flattered Marion. "You are one of those girls who always attract the men in great droves. At a dance you are the first girl to have your program filled. At the skating rink you are the center of attraction. Everywhere that Peggy Dayton goes the men are sure to follow."

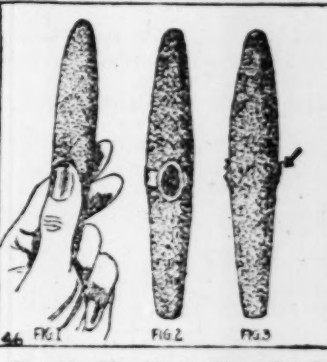

"Booh!"

"Fact! Well, I must hurry home," announced Marion, gathering up her wraps. "But honestly, Peggy, would you care if I cut in for Jack?"

"No," laughed Peggy, flinging an orchid at her, but in her heart of hearts she wondered.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 46—The Magic Cigar Band.

A CIGAR is shown, and waved in the air. Suddenly the band disappears and it reappears.

The band only goes half way around the cigar. It is glued to the perfect to keep it from falling off.

In waving the cigar it is given a half turn, which brings the blank side to the front. A reversal of the movement brings the band back.

75% OF HOUSEWIVES SOAK EVERYDAY CLOTHES

What does soaking mean to you? Three out of every four housewives always loosen the dirt by letting the clothes soak before they start washing.

With the ordinary soaps, this helped a little but there was still a lot of rubbing to be done. Rinso, an entirely new kind of soap, loosens and dissolves every bit of dirt, without the slightest injury to the clothes. Soak your clothes an hour or more in Rinso and the dirt rinses right out, all but the most stubborn places and those need only a light rubbing.

Rinso is the only soap you need for the entire regular family wash. You don't need any other soap—nor any washing powder with Rinso. Women who are using it say their clothes are spotless and last longer.

By registering 199 bull's-eyes out of a possible 200, Miss Sarah Louise Hooper, a student in the military department of the Pottsville (Pa.) High School is credited with the highest rifle record in the United States.

Filet of Sole Venetienne

PLACE in a deep buttered baking dish one finely chopped onion, one crushed bay leaf, two whole cloves, one tablespoon of chopped parsley and a little salt and pepper. Lay on this filets of sole or other fish and cover with some good butter, pour over some good white stock or water, add two tablespoons of orange juice and two teaspoons of lemon juice. Cover the dish with oiled paper and bake in the oven 15 minutes. When the fish is cooked remove all the liquor except enough to keep the fish moist. Strain the liquor and add to it two tablespoons of flour creamed with one tablespoon of butter, bring the sauce to a boil; remove from the fire and add the yolk of one egg, one tablespoon of chopped parsley and two teaspoons of chopped chives. Place filets on a hot platter, pour over the sauce and serve garnished with lemon slices and parsley branches.

Without waiting another second Whitefoot scampered away. And how he did hope that his scent would have disappeared by the time Shadow returned. If it hadn't there would be little hope for him and he knew it.

CABBAGE RELISH

CHOP fine two large heads of cabbage, one quart small onions, one quart green tomatoes, one-half dozen green peppers and three red peppers. Sprinkle with water and let stand all night. Then drain and add two pounds granulated sugar to two quarts vinegar, one teaspoon pulverized alum, two tablespoons celery seed and one-half cup white mustard seed. Let it come to a boil and pour over the other ingredients. Will be ready to use in one week. Put into crockery jars.

Don't Let Your Eye Deceive You

Don't think because you used to get 16 oz., or a full pound when you bought a can of baking powder that you are getting it today.

The can may look as large as it used to, but is apt to contain 4 oz. less. Some manufacturers of baking powder have reduced the number of ounces in the large can from 16 oz., or a full pound, to 12 oz., or 3/4 of a pound.

That's why you should be careful when you buy baking powder—you may be paying for what you think is 16 oz., or a full pound, and find that you are 4 oz., or a 1/4 of a pound short.

There is no change in the size of the Calumet can—always did and still does contain 16 oz., or a full pound of baking powder.

It is the best that science can produce—stands the test of daily use.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

TUESDAY WOULD BE JUST LIKE SUNDAY.

ON the occasion of a local election in a small Tennessee town an old colored man was the only member of his race who voted the Democratic ticket. It was felt that this devotion to the cause of the Caucasian—as it prevailed in that vicinity—was deserving of recognition and a substantial reward.

Accordingly, the incoming administration promptly created a department of street cleaning—something of which the municipality had never seriously felt the need before. This department was to consist of two members, namely, a foreman, or superintendent, and a staff of one. Naturally, to a white man went the job of foreman, but upon the worthy old black man was conferred the honor of being the staff.

Now, he had the idea, which is not uncommon among other political appointees, that holding a public office meant regular wages and considerable glory and no appreciable amount of manual exertion. Nevertheless, on the Monday morning when he reported for duty, as a concession to the conventionalities, he did bring a shovel along with him.

But the white man who had been selected as superintendent had a very different idea of the obligations which he owed the municipality. He might not work much himself, but he was determined that the force under him should not be idle. No sooner had the old negro shoveled up one of the accumulated piles of vintage rubbish of the years from the public thoroughfare than the vigilant eye of the boss spied out at least half a dozen more similar mounds which, to his way of thinking, seemed to require immediate attention.

As a consequence, it was 4 o'clock in the afternoon before the surprised and chagrined and pained old man had time to blow on the plump, new-formed blisters in the palm of his hands or to rub the cricks out of his back. Finally, in a merciful lull in the operations he straightened his spine with an almost audible creak, and as he wrung the dew of unwonted toll from his forehead he inquired of his superior:

"Look here, mister, ain't you got nothin' to do 'ceptin' jes' to think up things fur me to do?"

"Yep," said the white man, briskly, "that's all my job—just to keep you busy."

"Well, suh," said the old man, softly, "in dat case you'll probly be pleased to know dat you ain't goin' to be workin' tomorrer."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. MontagueA DIRGE OF LIFE.
(By a Flu Victim.)

Tell us not, in joyful ditties,
That our luck is going to mend.
In life's poker game, the kitties
Get the winnings in the end.
Life is grim and life is cheerless,
Crooks succeed and good men fail,
And if you're the least bit keener
You will finish it in jail.

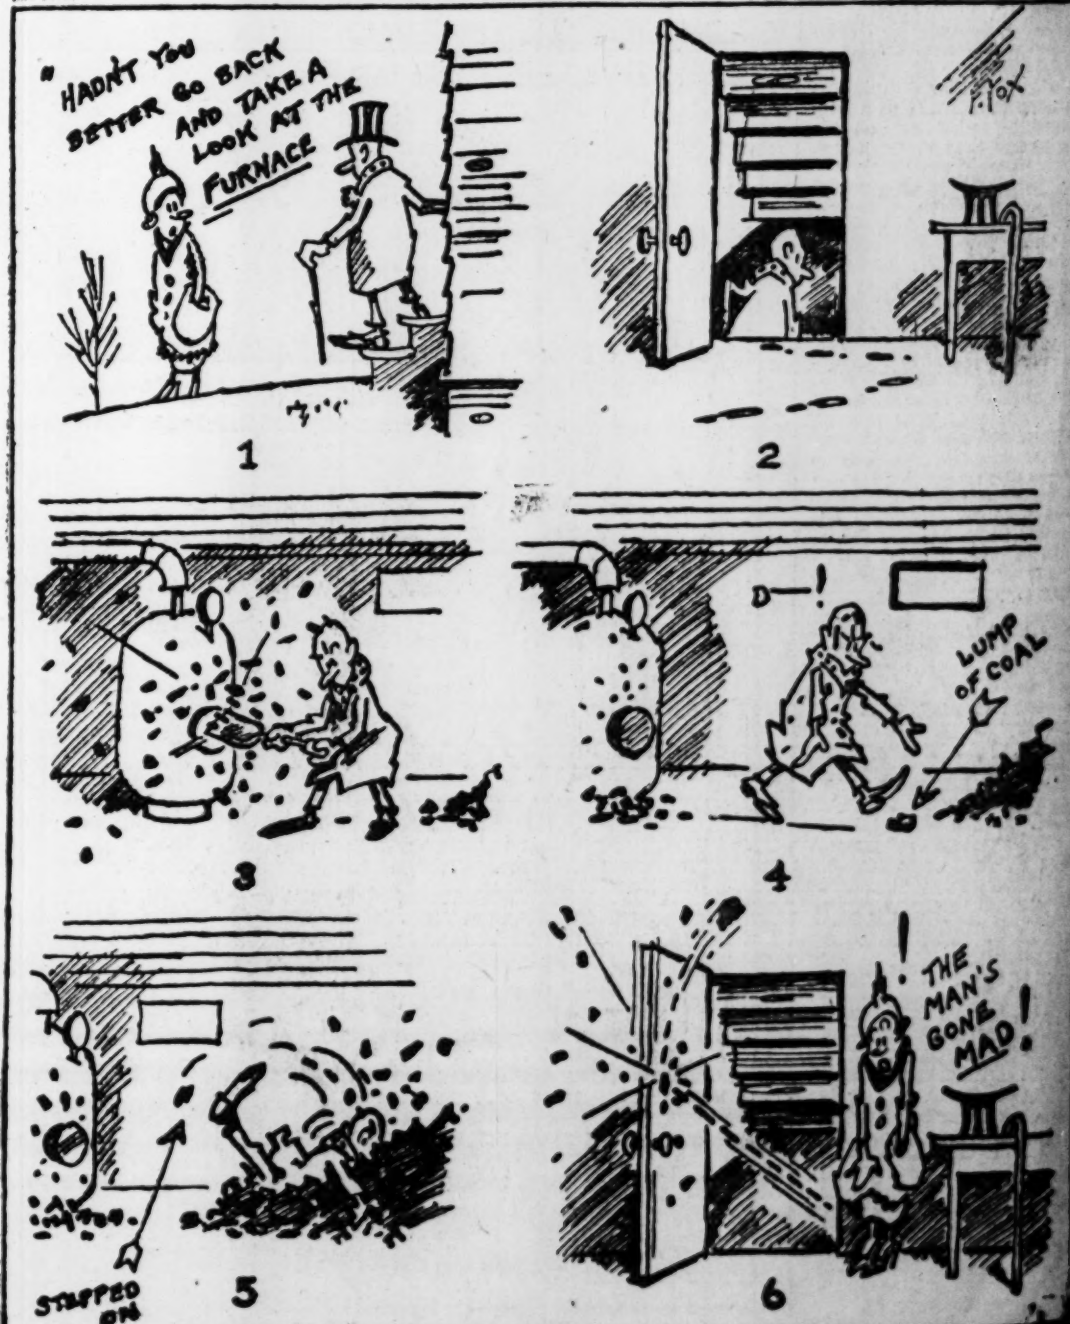

Christmas may be far behind you,
But within a day or two,
Mr. Mellon will remind you
That your income tax is due.
If a pleasant thought you harbor
As an antidote to care,
You're admonished by your barber
That you're losing all your hair.

Though the war at last has ended
You're aware that in your hours
For a year you've apprehended
That another's going to start.
Though the balmy spring-like breezes Tend to make your spirit glad,
They are laden with discuses,
Some of which you haven't had.

Lives of other men alarm you,
For they amply illustrate How the years are bound to harm you
And how terrible is fate.
So you sit here, steeped in sorrow
And fretting gloom,
Knowing well that each tomorrow
Brings you nearer to the tomb!
